Errors Charged by Attorney in Appeal Action on Reinoehl Case

A series of errors was alleged Friday in appeal proceedings started by Defense Attorney W. L. Dunn immediately after District Judge Hugh A. Baker sentenced Orville Reinoehl to serve an indeterminate amount of time, not to exceed two and one-half years, in the state penitentiary for attempted extortion.

Dunn filed notice he would appeal the case to the state supreme court, asked the court for a certificate of probable cause, filed an undertaking of bond, and requested Reinoehl be admitted to bail during the appeal proceedings. The court granted his requests and set Reinoehl's bail at $1,000.

In his motion for a certificate of probable cause, Dunn alleges there were errors in overruling to quash the information against Reinoehl and his demurrer to the charge, in overruling his objection to the admission of testimony because the court did not have jurisdiction and because the information failed to state facts sufficient to constitute a felony, and in jury instructions defining extortion and attempted extortion.

Judge Baker's statutory sentence came in less than two days after a jury verdict Wednesday night which found Reinoehl guilty of an attempt to commit extortion, as charged. The jury, in a handwritten notation, recommended extreme leniency. It had a choice of two verdicts, guilty or not guilty, without qualifications.

Pronouncement of sentence was originally scheduled for next Friday but the date was advanced one week upon Dunn's request and no objections were voiced by Reinoehl or Prosecuting Attorney Everett M. Sweeley. In addition to the prison sentence, Reinoehl was ordered to pay the court costs for both district and probate hearings.

State law provides an attempted crime carries half the penalty for the offense itself. The maximum penalty provided for extortion is five years in the penitentiary, or a fine of $5,000, or both. The minimum sentence is determined by the state penitentiary pardon board.

Involved in the case was the payment of $1,000, before concealed witnesses, to Reinoehl, then a city traffic sergeant, by O. A. Rambo, then owner of Bo's cafe, allegedly to prevent revocation of his slot machine licenses by the city council.

Meeting to Ask Action On Jobless

Twin Falls county is facing one of the most serious unemployment problems ever encountered in this area, according to A. J. Meeks, manager of the Idaho state employment service office here. In order to seek a solution for the problem, a meeting has been called for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the ISES office. Representatives of 23 Twin Falls organizations will be asked to chart action on the problem.

Included will be representatives from the department of public assistance, chairman of the county commissioners, Red Cross, chief of police, sheriff's office, prosecuting attorney, Jaycees, VFW, Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, DAV, KTFI, Times-News, labor camp manager, Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Ministerial association, Salvation Army, mayor, veterans administration and American Legion welfare committee.

Weather conditions have limited all types of job opportunities, Meeks said, and at present there are 40 families unemployed at the labor camp. It is impossible to estimate the number of others unemployed throughout this area, he said.

Between 5,500 and 6,000 callers have applied at the ISES office this month only to learn that there are no available job openings, for unskilled laborers, Meeks said.

Last month 5,869 made job applications of which 2,507 were placed, with 2,095 of them in seasonal harvest work and 382 in non-agricultural work. In August, during the lull between harvests, there were 6,554 applications, Meeks said.

Now that the harvest season is over, the unemployment situation is bad and it will grow continually worse during the winter, Meeks said.

Organization representatives attending the discussion on Tuesday will try to determine the amount of funds available for helping needy families. The meeting will be open to the public.

About [illegible] per cent of the unemployed persons are transients, but it was pointed out that someone has to care for them if they are without funds.

Grazing Panel Chooses 4 for Advisory Unit

Named for three-year terms were Max Cohn, Pocatello, precinct 3 cattle representative; Vern Eames, American Falls, precinct 3 sheep representative, and Wesley Ward, Elba, precinct 2 sheep representative. Devere Tovey, Malad, was chosen precinct 4 sheep representative to fill the unexpired term of Jessie H. Dredge, Malad, who resigned recently.

Four Holdovers

Full list of advisory board members includes the following holdover members:

Precinct 1—Dan Cavanagh, Twin Falls, sheep, and Russell Larsen, Kimberly, cattle.

Precinct 2—A. D. Pierce, Malta, cattle.

Precinct 4—Milton Jones, Malad, cattle.

50 Attend Meet

District Grazier James F. Keith was in charge of the sessions attended by 50 stockmen from the district. Votes cast totaled 38. Election judges were Ralph Tovey, Malad; Gene Pickett, Oakley, and E. A. McIntyre, Kimberly.

Ray Swanson, Pocatello, spoke on grazing and range improvement problems. He is a director of the Idaho Cattlemen's association and explained that group's efforts to further the reseeding program and other range-betterment projects.

Man Takes Own Life When Facing Arrest

W. H. Gasser, 63, 430 Third avenue east, died at 10:45 p.m. Friday, at a local hospital, of a bullet wound which sheriff's officers termed "self inflicted." The .22 caliber bullet entered Mr. Gasser's mouth and coursed upward, according to Deputy Sheriff Pete Rountree, who set the time of the shooting at 9:34 p.m. Coroner J. Woodson Creed said Saturday that no inquest would be held.

Rountree said he had gone to the Gasser residence after receiving a telegram from Liberty county officials, Chester, Mont., asking that Mr. Gasser be returned there for trial on a charge of forgery.

Mr. Gasser answered the door, the deputy related, and said he would "come along and get the whole thing straightened out."

Rountree placed a call to the sheriff's office. Mr. Gasser was given permission to go to the cellar to shut off the furnace before leaving. The officer, still using the phone, could see the cellar door from the telephone.

Heard Shot

As Rountree was about to hang up the receiver he heard a shot in the basement. He told Deputy Sheriff Melvin Van Noy to come over and then went to the basement to investigate.

He found the wounded man lying on his back at the foot of the stairs with a .22 caliber rifle across his left ankle. Rountree called an ambulance, the city police and Coroner Creed.

Dies at Hospital

Mr. Gasser was rushed to a local hospital where he died. He was born Aug. 14, 1885, in Crete, Nebr. He moved to Buhl 42 years ago, and to Twin Falls in 1927. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was employed as a salesman by the Red Comet corporation, Littleton, Colo.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mae G. Miller, Santa Barbara, Calif.; 11 children, John Henry Geer, Salinas, Kans.; Mrs. Joan Popplewell, Coos Bay, Ore.; Mrs. Jeannette Nelson, Twin Falls; Capt. James Gasser, U. S. army, Japan; Mrs. V. A. Davis, Hayward, Calif.; Joe Gasser, U. S. navy, Pearl Harbor, T. H.; Gerald Gasser and Justine Gasser, both Twin Falls; Jerard Gasser, Guam; Jeanine Gasser, Great Falls, Mont. and Edna Francis Geer, Buhl; and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Reynolds mortuary chapel with the Rev. Donald B. Blackstone officiating. Burial will be made in Sunset memorial park.

Cassia County Farm Bureau Rolls Doubled

BURLEY, Nov. 20—Membership of the Cassia county Farm Bureau federation was nearly doubled during the past year, members were told at the annual meeting here Saturday.

Forrest Severe, Oakley, president, said membership last year was 175 and the present count is 335.

Main address of the meeting was by Don Klegg, Malad, state president. He laid a six-point program for members. The points were:

Organization Stressed

1. Importance of farmers organizing to make their wants known through group action.

2. Preservation and improvement of the soil for use by future generations as well as the present.

3. More use of farmer cooperative marketing and support of farmer-owned cooperatives.

4. Need for reduction in the spread of prices from producer to consumer.

Alert on Taxes

5. Alertness on the many taxes collected by various units of government to prevent their exceeding legitimate bounds.

6. Continued watchfulness on rising railroad rates and an effort to keep them down.

Other speakers included Mrs. Lorenzo Hansen, Shelley, president of the associated women's organization; Dee Rex Bingham, Burley, treasurer, Robert L. Thompson, Salt Lake City, Utah, health and accident director of the Kolob corporation; Harold Bedford, Bancroft, state organization director; and

Prediction Is True as Cold Trails Snows

Weather forecasters' predictions of clearing, colder weather for Magic Valley proved true Saturday after winter's first real blast struck the area Friday.

The storm which left the valley and the rest of Idaho, Utah and Wyoming blanketed in varying depths of snow was battering itself out against the high Rockies of the continental divide Saturday night.

And the late fall blizzard which paralyzed a large strip of the great plains area from eastern Colorado to Minnesota Friday blew itself out Saturday, the Associated Press reported.

Freighter Grounded

It grounded a Lake Superior freighter in one final fling. Despite the storm's fury, only five deaths had been attributed to it. Relief workers reported that of hundreds of persons marooned, only one definitely was known to be still missing.

Magic Valley communities reported varying depths of snow, from about two inches in the Twin Falls, Burley, Jerome, Glenns Ferry and Shoshone to five inches in the Wood river valley and Sun Valley. The south hills received a fresh blanket.

Icy roads caused by the packed snow caused many auto accidents and inconveniences to motorists, but no fatalities were reported from any section of the eight-county area.

Saturday clouds broke, gathered, then broke again, giving indications of possible further snows. Temperatures went down and stayed near the freezing point the entire day, then dipped farther after sunset.

More of Same

Forecast for Sunday predicted more of the same, with the low temperature this morning and Monday morning in the neighborhood of 18 to 20 degrees and high today at 35 to 45 degrees.

The intermountain storm brought no reported damage and few serious accidents. And it delighted winter sport fans, who saw already snow-laden ski trails get a new blanket.

Democratic Women Hold "Victory Banquet" Here

A victory banquet was held by the Twin Falls county Democratic Women Saturday at the American Legion hall with Juneau Shinn telling "What Happened."

People of the United States have had three terms of Roosevelt-Truman administration, Shinn said. They know what they wanted and voted for it, he added.

"The election showed that the people approve of the principles of the Democratic party," he said.

Tables for the banquet were arranged in the shape of a V with a picture of Truman and Barkley on the speaker's table.

Mrs. Carrie Whelan, president of the group, presided, and Mrs. Val Toolson gave a report on her work of organizing the state into a federation of Democratic Women's clubs.

Mrs. Burton Perrine was chairman of the luncheon and Mrs. Jack Carson chairman of decorations. Mrs. T. M. Robertson and Mrs. Arthur Dahl were in charge of calling members.

The subject of the next meeting will be "Reclamation," with Mrs. T. M. Robertson as chairman.

Big Rifts Continue to Balk U. N. Assembly

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Hot words here and the cold war elsewhere have gone on without a break during the first nine weeks of the United Nations assembly.

The assembly has three weeks more to run at the Palais de Chaillot. Up to now it has not bridged any of the big rifts between the east and west.

While there is no unbounded optimism, its [illegible] not lost in pessimism.

The security council, meeting concurrently with the assembly, still has the Berlin crisis before it and has met more frequently on urgent matters than during any previous assembly.

Neutrals Prod

Efforts are going on under the prodding of the "six neutrals" in the security council to reach a compromise formula that might break the Berlin deadlock. Their first effort was vetoed by Russia Oct. 25.

In a special statement written for the Associated Press, Assembly President Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister, predicted the Berlin deadlock would be broken and other big issues solved.

Initiate Appeal

Evatt and U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie initiated an appeal to the four big powers—after the Soviet veto—to get together on a settlement of the Berlin crisis and carry on from there through the completion of the German, Austrian and Japanese peace treaties.

Some western powers representatives do not share the optimism of Dr. Evatt, but they acknowledge generally that the door has not been slammed on what he proposes.

Political Factors Strike

Looking back from the three-quarter post in this 12-week assembly, it appears that two great political factors have struck hard here and held the attention of the 58 national delegations.

One is the Berlin issue which was injected into the security council by the western powers on the contention that Russia threatens peace by closing Berlin to all but airlift traffic.

The other is the election of President Truman to a four-year term starting next Jan. 20 and the indicated stiffening of American policy.

BEGIN PACT DRAFT

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The western European alliance is plugging away on a rough draft of a north Atlantic defense pact for presentation to Washington before President Truman's state of the union address.

Senate Envoy Urges All-Out Aid for China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A special senate consultant, just back from China, recommended tonight an immediate, all-out program of American aid as the only possible means of saving China from communism.

"Piecemeal aid will no longer save failing China from communism," declared former Sen. D. Worth Clark, Ida. "It is now an all-out program or none; a fish or cut bait proposition."

Clark said this conclusion was confirmed by American Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart and top American army officers in China.

He further reported a plea by Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek in these words: "China, said the president, must either have help or fall."

Clark, a Democratic senator in 1939-45, is now a Washington attorney. He went to China last month for Chairman Bridges, R., N. H., of the senate appropriations committee.

He published tonight his 6,000-word report to the committee, including a five-point program for action, which he said would cost the United States more than $1,000,000,000 the first year and $600,000,000 annually thereafter.

His action coincided with rapidly sharpening interest in the China crisis because of the foreign policy conference which President Truman will hold with Secretary of State Marshall next Monday.

Diplomats believe they will take up the China question, particularly with a view to deciding what the President should do finally in response to Chiang's appeal to him for a declaration of American support

AFL Invites Lewis Group Back in Fold

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor took another step toward the elusive goal of labor unity today. It invited John L. Lewis and his 600,000 miners to come back to the fold.

Earlier in the AFL convention, the delegates had approved a resolution inviting the CIO to return.

The Lewis resolution said it was a "deep shock" to the AFL to learn of the miners' disaffiliation last Dec. 12—after the bitter convention fight in San Francisco. Lewis had fought almost singlehanded to get the AFL to refuse to sign non-communist affidavits.

Other Negotiations

While these open maneuvers were used to attract the CIO and Lewis back into the federation, quieter negotiations were under way with the International Association of Machinists, claiming 650,000 members. The machinists left the AFL two years in a jurisdictional battle with the carpenters.

The 650 convention delegates earlier heard Vice President-Elect Alben W. Barkley advise them not to allow the 81st congress, assembling Jan. 3, to forget the pledges of President Truman and the Democratic party.

Issues Valid Now

"What was said in the campaign is just as valid now as it was before the election," Barkley told the cheering delegates.

The major objectives, he said, were repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, strengthening of the labor department and boosting of the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents. The rate was fixed by the fair labor standards act of 1938.

The convention approved a proposal of President William Green for a full-scale economic conference of industry, farmers and labor to help fight off inflation and the cost of living. The government should take part by supplying overall information on trends in problems, the resolution said.

Idaho County Officials Urge Hospital Fund

IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Idaho association of commissioners and clerks today urged the appropriation of at least $300,000 annually for county hospital maintenance and construction.

Ending its convention today, the association elected W. L. Hendrix, Ada county commissioner, president, succeeding Adam H. Blackstock of Marsing.

Named Vice President

Jack Packer, Bonneville county clerk, was elected vice president succeeding W. H. Jenson of Pocatello. Jensen was a candidate for the presidency.

The association chose Pocatello for the 1949 convention.

Other resolutions approved by the county officials included:

Amendments to the law providing a maximum 20 per cent increase in salaries of county commissioners and other county officers.

Want Tax Support

Support for two tax relief measures authorizing the federal government to reimburse counties according to their holdings in the various counties.

A change in game laws authorizing the state fish and game department to permit trapping of beaver and other animals causing destruction.

A uniform accounting system for the weed departments and other special departments.

Uniform Assistance

Recommendation of an act allowing the department of public assistance to administer greater assistance uniformly throughout the state without creating an overburden on some counties.

Approval for the increase of school limits on levies for maintenance of school and county costs and making teacher retirement the direct responsibility of school trustees.

Jerome Man Will Be Unit Head of Honey Producers

BOISE, Nov. 20 (AP)—Charles P. Hancock, Jerome, today was reelected president of the Idaho State Honey Producers association and Twin Falls was chosen as the 1949 convention city.

At the final session of a two-day convention, the association also reelected Charles A. Williams, Meridian, vice president, and Ellis Stoddard, Boise, secretary-treasurer.

A three-man committee composed of O. S. Cox, Shelley; Carl Feeler, Nampa, and Earl J. Miller, Blackfoot, was appointed to attend the farm bureau meeting at Pocatello Nov. 29-30.

The association approved a resolution asking that honey be included as a canned goods item to facilitate freight rate changes.

The use of chemicals repellent to bees was also recommended for county weed control spray outfits.

Another resolution asking government subsidies for honey was also passed by the association.

Nation Suspends Rights Guarantee

CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 20 (AP)—The government suspended constitutional guarantees of freedom of press, speech and political meetings today amid rumors that some army officers are demanding a cabinet shakeup.

(Suspension of constitutional guarantees generally means imposition of censorship.)

The decree, issued by President Romulo Gallegas after a meeting of the cabinet, said it was made necessary by "circumstances that have created a state of alarm which affects the economic and social life of the nation."

The suspension will continue until normal conditions are restored, it was announced. The decree will be submitted within 10 days to the permanent commission of the national congress which functions between regular sessions.

Builders Aver Needed Items Are Available

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Materials and labor enough to sustain the building boom by providing $18,100,000,000 worth of new construction in 1949 were foreseen tonight by the Producers' Council, Inc.

The national organization of building supply manufacturers issued its forecast as the government reported these housing developments:

1. The new federal "yield insurance" program, intended to attract large-scale investors into the moderate-rental housing field, was set in motion by the federal housing administration.

Survey Nears End

2. The office of the housing expediter, ploughing through complaints of overcharges and other violations on 64,000 priority-built veterans' homes, forecast completion of its job by April. A total of $15,000,000 in allegedly improper charges is involved.

The producers' council said most materials will be "ample" for the $18,100,000,000 worth of new building and $7,000,000,000 worth of repair and maintenance work forecast for next year.

Would Equal '48

This would mean a volume of building, of all types, about equal to this year's, with a possible drop in housing construction but an increase in highway and other public works jobs. A commerce department

All of Couple's Funds Taken by Woman in Store

A woman shopping in Twin Falls Saturday should have a merry Christmas if she has no conscience, police said. She took a young couple's entire bankroll.

The money, totaling approximately $100, was in a black plastic handbag carried by the young wife. The money was for rent, doctor bills and food.

The couple had been shopping in the basement of a local store when the young wife set her purse down while looking at merchandise and forgot it. As soon as she discovered the loss, they began a search but by this time the pocketbook and its contents had disappeared.

Shortly after they had notified city police of the loss, the empty pocketbook was found in a women's changing room in the same store. The young woman said she could be contacted at 396-R2.

WITHHOLD TAX

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (UP)—The army and air force announced today they will start withholding income taxes from the pay of military personnel on Jan. 1.

Water Group OK's Aid for Power Lines

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20 (UP)—The National Reclamation association, after receiving a blast from Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus for harboring "power monopolists," was on record today in favor of spending public funds for main power transmission lines.

The association took the action as its three-day annual convention closed here last night. Salt Lake City, where the association was organized 17 years ago, was named for the 1949 convention site.

Funds Resolution Okayed

The association approved, without a discussion from the floor, a resolution urging that the federal government provide funds for development of public power generating and transmission facilities in connection with reclamation projects.

The resolution declared that multi-purpose projects should provide both financial assistance to reclamation and "a substantial measure of national security." However, it called for erection of transmission lines only in case private facilities were not available.

Withering Blast

Straus delivered a withering blast at representatives of lower interests he said are within the association.

"They are not reclamationists or water users," he said. "They are powerful corporations or corporate agents and employes who paid a good price for admission (to NRA) and claim the paymasters' privilege of calling the tune."

The association in another resolution called for an expansion of reclamation programs in 17 western states, with a minimum of federal control.

It also demanded that the integrity of state water laws be preserved.

Truman Ends Furlough for Official Tasks

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP)—President Truman put away his slacks and open-neck sports shirts tonight to fly back to Washington for important peace talks.

A "wonderful" two weeks vacation ended, he boards the "Independence," at 11 a.m. (EST) tomorrow for the four hour flight to the White House.

To Confer With Marshall

There, at 1:30 p.m. Monday he will sit down with Secretary of State Marshall for the first of a series of conferences to review the nation's foreign policy in all trouble areas of an uneasy world.

A meeting with his cabinet, the first since the election, is probable on Friday.

The President also will talk with W. Averell Harriman, "roving" ECA ambassador, but Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the time of Harriman's appointment had not been fixed.

Hopes to Retain Marshall

The President is known to hope he can persuade Secretary Marshall to delay his retirement.

The White House clamped tight the lid of secrecy surrounding its consideration of Chiang Kai-Shek's personal appeal to the President for a new American policy statement of support for the hard-pressed nationalist government of China.

The President is keeping his own counsel, too, on a shakeup of his administration. Even his closest associates do not know what post he has in mind for Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington, a presidential crony and guest at the temporary White House on the naval submarine station here.

Police Radio for Burley Now FM

BURLEY, Nov. 20—Changeover of the local police radio to FM has been accomplished and is now operating, law enforcement officers said Saturday.

Receivers have been installed in one state, three city and two sheriff's autos. Two more city police cars are to have the FM receivers installed, Police Chief W. W. Williams said.

The changeover is another step in the complete conversion of law enforcement radio to FM in Idaho. First to change was Pocatello, then Twin Falls. Other cities throughout the state are making preparations.

Ice Causes Many Accidents, But No Toll Boost for Valley

Icy roads in Magic Valley brought scores of minor auto accidents, a few major ones and two fatalities, but the area's death rate was not boosted—the fatalities were cows.

Gooding County Sheriff R. E. Cecil reported two cows killed in two places, one at 7:30 p. m. Friday and one at 3 a. m. Saturday.

Minor accidents included many reports of cars skidding off highways in many sections of the valley as winter paid its first real visit to the area.

Major accidents included more skidding on a bigger scale about six miles east of Hansen on U. S. highway 30 early Saturday morning and east of Rupert on U. S. highway 30 Friday afternoon, plus two in Gooding county.

Overturning about six miles east of Hansen were two trailers. The first occurred about midnight Friday when an Orange Transportation company truck-trailer skidded and overturned. The driver was Nyle Pepper, Twin Falls.

He told state highway patrolmen he hit an icy stretch and skidded. The loaded trailer turned over in the borrow pit, causing an estimated $1,000 damage. It had to be unloaded before it could be righted.

About 5:20 a. m. as crews were clearing up the first wreck, an oil tanker hit the ice about a quarter of a mile farther east. James M. Sizemore, Twin Falls, said he saw the flares put out because of the first mishap, put on his brakes, skidded and wound up with his trailer overturned in the borrow pit. Damage to the oil-laden trailer own-

Direct Vet Loans Urged by Legion

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20 (UP)—The American Legion today recommended a federal law to permit direct government loans to veterans who want to buy or build houses.

The Legion executive committee also picked Philadelphia for its 1949 convention, rejecting bids of Miami and New York.

Extension of federal rent controls a year beyond their present expiration date, as recommended by an economic commission, was endorsed by the committee, which also suggested a law to give veterans preference for federal housing.

It is important that every name appear on the plaque, Mrs. Conklin said. If anyone knows the name of a county fatality who does not appear in the following list, she requests the information. Her address is Mrs. Carl C. Conklin, Box 545, Twin Falls, or phone 1082.

'Big Inch' Erupts, 18 Workmen Hurt

SEYMOUR, Ind., Nov. 20 (AP)—"Big Inch" pipeline erupted into a tower of flaming natural gas visible for miles last night, injuring 18 persons and destroying 14 cars and trucks and several small buildings.

The line broke at the Reddington pumping station eight miles northeast of here. A second blast occurred an hour and a half later, sending another column of fire into the air near the first.

Icy Highways Create Many Car Mishaps

ed by Gordon Ray, Twin Falls, was estimated at $1,000.

And Friday afternoon on highway 30 east of Rupert, icy roads caused two cars to tip into the borrow pit. Clyde Chamberlain, route 3, Rupert, was driving west about 4:30 p. m. when his 1940 sedan skidded and turned turtle. At 5 p. m. J. T. Doran, Pocatello, lost control and overturned his auto when it hit an icy stretch about 12 miles east of Rupert. No injuries were reported and car damage was slight, Minidoka County Sheriff Ron Hawkes reported.

First of the Gooding county cow fatalities occurred when a truck driven by Duane O'Brien, Hill City, struck a cow owned by Nathan Ashmead about two miles north of Gooding.

Second fatality was a mile north of Gooding when a car driven by Ivan Mink, Gooding, struck a cow owned by Jim Baggett. Sheriff Cecil said both cows were loose on the highway when the accidents killed them.

At 3 p.m. Saturday a 1942 sedan driven by Rulon Swenson, Boise, and a 1947 pickup truck driven by Dwane Osborne, 14, Gooding, collided at the corner of Tenth and Montana streets.

Police Chief R. T. Casaday said Osborne and six other youths were in the pickup. He quoted Osborne as saying he "failed to see the other machine." Point of impact was the front of the pickup and center of the sedan. Swenson was injured slightly, but none of the youths was injured. None of the three other occupants of the Swenson auto were hurt.

Chief Casaday estimated damage to the pickup at $200 and to the left side of the sedan at $600 to $700.

Sheriff Cecil reported another accident about eight miles southwest of Wendell on the Burley road. It occurred about 1 p. m. Saturday when a westbound 1943 International truck driven by Max Gratiot, Wendell, collided with a 1931 coupe driven by Jack Flynn, Buhl.

The coupe was demolished, Sheriff Cecil said. The gravel truck received only a dent, but wasn't badly damaged. Flynn received minor cuts and was given emergency treatment by a Wendell physician.

Sheriff Cecil and Wendell City Marshal Ray Dudley, who investigated, said Flynn drove his coupe from a side road into the path of Gratiot's truck.

State patrolmen and other law enforcement officials reported numerous instances of cars skidding off highways into borrow pits, but managed to get back onto the roads without aid.

At least two instances of cars abandoned in borrow pits were reported from north of Hansen. Drivers, officers said, had evidently hitched rides to town to obtain wrecker truck service.

Twin Falls city police reported three accidents caused by slippery streets and at least one person injured. All occurred Friday.

At 9:03 p. m. a pickup truck driven by Arnold Putzier, 1245 Fifth avenue east, collided with an auto driven by Charles Sanders, 1677 Third avenue east, at the intersection of Elm street and Third avenue east.

Putzier was thrown from the cab of his truck, struck the street in a sitting position and broke his collar bone, police reported. He received treatment from a local physician.

At 4:23 p. m. at the intersection of Fourth avenue west and Second street west, cars driven by Ina R. Fisher, 182 Lincoln street, and A. M. Sande, 419 Fifth avenue west, collided.

And at 4 p. m. autos driven by Donna J. Price, Kimberly, and Lloyd T. Sullivan, 52 Washington courts, collided at the intersection of Second avenue west and Third street west.

Police Probe Car Mishaps; None Injured

Three minor collisions were investigated Saturday by Twin Falls police. No one was injured and damage to vehicles was of a minor nature, officers said.

Two 1937 coupes driven by Richard G. Leonitzer, 220 Jefferson street, and George L. Bohrn, route 1, collided at 12:15 p. m. at Five Points west. The right rear fender, running board and wheel of the Leonitzer machine were damaged slightly as was the front of the Bohrn vehicle, according to the police report.

At 2:10 p. m. at the intersection of Fifth avenue east and Third street east, a 1934 pickup truck driven by T. Yuma, labor camp, collided with a 1947 sedan driven by Elizabeth Sims, Hansen. According to officers, the right front fender of the Yuma machine and the left front fender of the Sims vehicle were damaged.

Charles R. Jones, 1417 Addison avenue east, and Edith B. Kleinkopf, 1301 Eleventh avenue east, were drivers of automobiles which collided at 6:50 p. m. in the 1400 block of Addison avenue east, police said. Cassia County Farm Bureau Rolls Doubled

(From Page One)

George Yates, Pocatello, manager of the Idaho Farm Insurance company.

Projects Urged

Mrs. Hansen stressed the need of the organization working on projects for rural use. She said farm programs should be tailored to fit young people in all phases of community life.

She also told of the Farm Bureau-sponsored Skilled Drivers clubs operating successfully in two counties and now being spread to other counties of the state. She said the clubs aid in reducing auto accidents involving young people. The clubs are receiving support from George Vaughn, state safety director, and law enforcement officials.

Beck Is President

William Beck, Burley, was elected president; George Brady, Burley, first vice president; Glenn Berryman, Burley, second vice president, and Dee Rex Bingham, Burley, secretary-treasurer.

Delegates to the state convention in Pocatello next week are George Brady and Forrest Revere, with Weldon Beck and Glenn Berryman as alternates.

Women Elect

The women's organization selected Mrs. Cora Rasmussen, Burley, as president. Mrs. Sylvia Beck, Burley, was named first vice chairman and Mrs. Dorothy Hanks, Burley, second vice chairman.

About 150 persons attended the meeting held in the local Odd Fellows hall. A dance at Oakley Saturday night concluded the day's meetings.

Prediction Is True as Cold Trails Snows

(From Page One)

That promised an early season for most resorts, including famed Sun Valley and Brighton and Alta near Salt Lake City.

4 Inches in Salt Lake

More than four inches of snow was reported at Salt Lake City. Ft. Bridger, Wyo., reported nine inches. Rock Springs six inches, and Malad and Pocatello, one inch each.

At Lewiston snow was still falling in the mountains last night and a steady drizzle of rain fell in the Lewiston "banana belt" throughout the day. This indicated possible precipitation for Magic Valley Sunday.

Throughout the intermountain area airlines, railroads and buses operated as scheduled.

Damage Not Estimated

The great Plains area wasn't so fortunate. Western Kansas and Nebraska appeared to be hardest hit. There was no way of estimating damage and livestock losses.

Most of the stalled trains were moving again—slowly and hours late. Snow plows battered pathways through drifts. Five trains still were stalled, but these were at stations and their passengers were safe.

Many stranded motorists were rescued by Santa Fe train crews in the Dodge City-Garden City area, wire services reported.

Change in Design Of Hungry Horse Dam Is Revealed

BOISE, Nov. 20 (U.P.)—A change in the design of the multiple-purpose Hungry Horse dam in Montana to allow more flood control was announced here today by the bureau of reclamation.

R. J. Newell, regional director of the bureau, said an additional discharge outlet would be installed in the dam.

Newell said the alterations on the $100,000,000 dam were worked out jointly by the bureau of reclamation and the corps of army engineers. The dam, on the south fork of the Flathead river, will be part of the coordinated Columbia basin flood control plan which was worked out by the army engineers.

Newell said that "in view of the flood disaster of last year, space in the Hungry Horse dam has become far fore valuable than anyone thought previously. Builders Aver Needed Items Are Available industry committee has estimated that this year's dwelling construction will run to 1,200,000 units, including farm homes.

In iron and steel, the council's estimate said, "the outlook is complicated by the unknown extent and character of the defense program."

The council predicted that sash, doors and other millwork should be "much more readily available," Gypsum items should definitely be "off the shortage list," and dealers should be able to offer "selectivity and prompt delivery" on other items.

Cement may remain tight, the council said, because of the expected rise in highway, bridge, dam and public building construction and the supreme court decision which upset the cement industry's "basing point" system of pricing.

U. S. Production Sets New Marks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — The nation's economic machine got record-smashing results in the third quarter of this year.

It produced goods and services at an unprecedented annual rate of $256,000,000,000, the commerce department estimated tonight.

The turnout for that quarter, covering the July-August-September period, was $6,000,000,000 above the rate of the preceding quarter, and $11,000,000,000 above the rate in 1948's first three months.

U. S. Opposed to Bernadotte Plan

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—The United States announced its opposition today to a part of the British-supported Bernadotte plan which would slice the huge Negev desert from Israel and give it to the Arabs.

The American position was stated by U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup in the 58-member political committee of the United Nations assembly.

In what he described as a preliminary statement, Jessup followed closely President Truman's declaration of Oct. 24 that no reductions in Israel's territory should be made without full consent of the Jews.

Cassia Group Seeks County PTA Council

BURLEY, Nov. 20—Initial steps in the organization of a Cassia County Parent-Teacher association council, to include all school units in the county, were made at a meeting of the Burley PTA council and representatives of school units.

Paul Darrell, vice president of the Burley council, presided in the absence of Mrs. Olive Boren. Units to be included in the new council will be Declo, Malta, Oakley, Elba, Albion, the three Burley groups and any other active PTA groups. The plan calls for five meetings a year, with the annual meeting in May and other meetings scheduled for September, November, January and March. The amended by-laws will be sent to the state organization for approval before the new organization is completed.

Mrs. Drummond Hoggan was appointed treasurer, replacing Mrs. Carol Late, who resigned. New officers will be elected in January and take office in March. S. Robert Bjorkman, superintendent of Cassia county schools, told representatives of the advantages of a county-wide unit council instead of individual councils. The next meeting will be held at Declo on Jan. 5.

Mrs. Rosa Loveless, chairman of the PTA health committee, reported that 98 children were registered for the health clinic last summer, with 80 coming for examination. There were 83 children given inoculations for smallpox and diphtheria. 18 were recommended for dental care, with 7 carrying out the recommendations. Thirty-six children were found to need tonsil operations, with 19 having the needed surgery. Three children were given chest X-rays. Another preschool clinic will be held next spring.

Mrs. Marjorie Muggart, Declo PTA president, reported that a health clinic for all children in the Declo school was held this week with Dr. L. Annest and Carol Thornton, public health nurse, in charge, assisted by the PTA health committee.

OPINIONS ABOUT POLLS

A continuing to-do over the election polls has prompted us to add a postscript to our last word on the subject. Among the to-doers are Rep. Sid Simpson of Illinois (Republican), who wants a law to bar such polls from the mails, and a newspaperman named Charles Abrams (obviously not Republican) who wants the whole polling system investigated by a senate committee.

Mr. Simpson says that polls "exert a certain bandwagon psychology that is not in the country's best interest." Mr. Abrams, who seems to think the surveys are rigged, says that "a biased poll may not only influence voters but precipitate a bandwagon rush of politicians, campaign contributors and others."

Apparently these gentlemen have hastened to condemn the polls without examining the election results too closely.

Governor Dewey had generally been conceded the election by many astute Democrats as well as by Republicans and pollsters, from the day that Mr. Truman was nominated. Yet Mr. Dewey, a sure thing, got the smallest Republican vote since Alf Landon, obviously and hopelessly outclassed, made the run in 1936. (As a matter of fact, the Literary Digest poll of that year didn't start any rush for the Landon bandwagon, either.)

Mr. Abrams doesn't stop with accusing the 1948 "biased" polls of pushing the bandwagon that never started rolling. He also blames Messrs. Gallup and Roper for "polling the world on international questions" and, by asking questions about intervention versus isolation, "playing with people's lives."

Further, says Mr. Abrams, "the poll . . . now claims to be a scientific measurement of what people think, with one of its functions, the inducing of public action." The Gallup poll, for one, has never made such a claim, nor have we seen it made by other pollsters.

The poll does not "now" make any new claim to science. Current methods have always been scientific, although, as we have suggested before, they may have become more exact with practice and experience.

No one, we feel sure, is more interested in finding and correcting the errors that produced the king-size election boner than the pollsters themselves. Any law to bar political opinion surveys from the mails would serve no purpose beyond endangering freedom of opinion and of the press. A senate investigation might well have a similar result.

Mr. Abrams also quotes a magazine writer's suggestion that polls be undertaken by non-profit, tax-supported or endowed agencies. We can't see any virtue in that, either. The pollsters are in a competitive business. They stand to lose business and income by their election errors. The desire to cancel out those losses is, we think, as good a stimulus as any for producing more efficient and accurate samplings in the future.

MR. TOFFENETTI'S VISIT

We would not think of adding any postscript which might embarrass Dario L. Toffenetti, well known Chicago cafe operator, who recently came to Idaho to be honored for "his distinguished and unusual service to the great potato industry" of this state.

Toffenetti has done a better job of featuring Idaho potatoes on his menus than have most restaurateurs in our own state. For that he deserves our whole-hearted appreciation.

The point we make is the method by which Idaho attempted to pay Mr. Toffenetti his due respects. It will be recalled that the state gave him a "commission" as "Idaho's first marshal and posse-member-at-large of the Idaho vigilantes."

Like the dummy who has difficulty figuring out the point to a story, we don't get it—any possible connection Mr. Toffenetti might have with the Idaho vigilantes, that is.

We understand the purpose beneath it all, but to our way of thinking there should have been some more appropriate way of demonstrating to Mr. Toffenetti our appreciation for all that he has done to give Idaho potatoes outstanding recognition.

Wouldn't it have been more effective to have staged some sort of a potato festival, at which our leading potato growers, restaurant operators, food dealers and civic leaders would have been present and at which Mr. Toffenetti would have been the guest of honor?

On such a significant occasion people from all over Idaho could have joined in singing his praises, all of which could have been climaxed with the governor presenting him with an attractive, official letter, suitable for framing, in which the state of Idaho formally expressed its appreciation for "his distinguished and unusual service to the great potato industry of Idaho."

If Mr. Toffenetti had been honored in such a manner, we believe he would have been equally if not more pleased and that the whole affair would have seemed more sincere and genuine. Besides, it might have helped to put our own cafe operators and food merchants on their toes to do a better job of boosting a home product.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The final check on President Truman's surprising victory in the face of overwhelming political and popular odds gives credit to the women for keeping him in the White House. It is, perhaps, their greatest public achievement since they were given suffrage almost 30 years ago.

One group alone, consisting largely of women, is ragarded as Mr. Truman's principal ballot-box benefactors. They are the school-teachers of America. For some reason they got the impression that the President was more favorable to them than Governor Dewey was.

Ray Tucker

In particular, they liked the administration's expanded educational program, which points toward higher salaries, more buildings and smaller classes, and federal subsidies through at least two years of junior college.

• • •

WOMEN—The teachers alone, assuming that they influenced and propagandized a friend or two—and few groups have a richer field for making and influencing friends—could have turned the trick, in view of Mr. Truman's narrow margin in such key states as Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, West Virginia and other commonwealths that provided him his electoral college dividend.

These post-mortem pollsters, however, think that the President got a far larger vote among women generally than his opponent did. Possibly because they are more susceptible to personal and emotional pressures, they seemed to prefer the Missouri, homely personality to the New York glamour. It is figured that many voted for Mr. Truman out of sympathy, a sort of motherly complex.

And every reporter and traveler on the Truman train now concedes that Mrs. Truman and Margaret made votes for the head of the family.

• • •

THEORY—According to this logical but unprovable conclusion is the fact that the 81st congress will have the largest group of women in political history, and the only feminine member of the senate elected in her own right—Margaret Chase Smith, Me.

Mr. Truman apparently agrees with this theory. For it is understood that if a new cabinet department of social welfare is created, he will name a woman to head it. He may also appoint several of the helpful sex to diplomatic posts.

• • •

FOREIGN—President Truman has taken complete command of the handling of foreign problems for the first time since he entered the White House.

His election has given him enough confidence to break from the spell which Secretary Marshall and Under Secretary Lovett exercised over him, and to disregard the extremely pro-British group inside the state department.

Mr. Truman deferred action on numerous foreign questions until after the election for political considerations alone. He changed front several times on the matter of Palestine, shocking both Marshall and Lovett, not to mention National Defense Secretary Forrestal.

They had played along with the British, who argued against any solution that might offend the Arabs. The President has now thrown this country's influence on the side of the Jews.

• • •

PARTICIPATION—Mr. Truman will also press for full American participation in a western European alliance, and in this project he has the enthusiastic support of Secretary Marshall.

The election decision to finance rearming of three French divisions, a form of aid which will be extended eventually to other anti-Moscow allies, marks the first assertion of Truman power in the field of foreign affairs.

The President has also asked his state and national defense advisers to make a fresh canvass of the Chinese situation. Unless events of the next few weeks prove that it is too late to bolster the recognized government with funds, arms and civilian supplies, Mr. Truman plans to sponsor a minor Marshall plan for the orient.

The chief executive's assumption of authority in this field is based on his study of the election returns. In displacing such "isolationists" as Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, Ill.; "Joe" Ball, Minn., and Harold L. Knutson, Minn., chairman of the house ways and means committee, the voters declared for an aggressive, heavily financed, around-the-world program, in White House opinion.

• • •

POLLS—Legislative proposals to kill off such supposedly "scientific" polls of political sentiment as those conducted by Gallup, Crossley and Roper will get nowhere in the next congress.

Bills already introduced to bar them from the mails would undoubtedly be held unconstitutional by the supreme court, assuming that they could be enacted, as "class discrimination."

The fact is that many Truman politicians attribute his victory to these "samplings" of the voters' mind. They were so confidently and unanimously pro-Dewey from the start that they tended to keep Republican voters from the polls and to induce Democratic contributors to zipper their pocketbooks. The GOP's lack of cash accounts, partially at least, for their failure to carry congress.

Inasmuch as many Democratic members of house and senate figure that they owe their election to these polls' prediction of a Dewey triumph, with the resultant Republican indifference, it is hardly likely that they will put their statistical benefactors out of business.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

OPPORTUNITIES IN IDAHO

Announcement of the coming Idaho Wool Growers association convention Jan. 9-11 in Pocatello again brings to mind the vast resources of this state that could form the basis of many thriving industries if fully exploited.

Here we raise large quantities of some of the finest wool in the world, yet ship most of it back east where it is processed and then goes to the knitting mills.

If Idahoans want to buy the knitted goods they must pay the cost of sending the raw wool to the east by freight and then returning the finished goods back again—a double expense.

Wool is not the only raw material this state has in abundance. It possesses much mineral wealth and natural resources that industry needs. That's why it sends for them and turns them into manufactured products thousands of miles away.

What Idaho needs is a state promotion and publicity commission that would point out this state's advantages to eastern capital. Millions of dollars are laying idle in New York and Chicago banks, awaiting industrial opportunities to put them to work. This would create more goods, more jobs, more opportunities for this state to develop its resources.

The state needs an organization capable of doing the job. It should bring this state's opportunities to the attention of eastern capitalists. Idaho probably is America's last frontier and as such, its advantages should be publicized.—Pocatello Tribune.

INEXACT SCIENCE

During the war the term, juvenile delinquency, assumed sociological proportions. The sociologist, proportionately, had a field day. The theory that juvenile delinquency was in reality adult delinquency became gospel. Now comes a University of Nebraska sociologist who says outside influences are more to blame than parents—that is, most parents. "Outside influences" cover the field.

What he means is that some parents are to blame and some juveniles are to blame and some outside influences are to blame. That is a safe conjecture.

There was the sociologist recently who went into the question of why infants cried. Some were exercising their lungs. Some were spoiled. But the majority cried due to an unsatisfactory diaper condition. It was a remarkable survey, ending with what everybody knew all along.

Sociology is a science almost as exact as vote forecasting.—Dallas News.

POT SHOTS

THEY TOOK HER WORD

Dear Pots:

This is the absolute truth in every detail. And I do mean detail.

The car window was broken, so the gal took it to the garage to have the window replaced while she worked. She picked up the car at noon, on the way home...she was cut by glass left on the seat by a garageman.

Her husband applied the necessary bandages in the proper spots during noon hour. Before going back to work, she stopped by the garage to give everyone in general what-for. I think they took her word for what happened.

NEEDED: 40 MORE PUPS

Remember the two offspring of a cocker spaniel and a German police dog? They were claimed, reports the former owner. She says she had 42 calls from people who wanted one of the pups. She received phone calls from Sun Valley, Shoshone, Richfield, Kimberly and Filer in addition to all the local calls. Is the demand for pups picking up again or is it just the demand for a cross between a cocker spaniel and German police dog?

SHE WEARS THE GUNS

Dear Potso:

For some guys, you can take that phrase "better half" literally. I have in mind a state patrolman. Can't tell ya his name, but his initials are Jim Bays.

He took his missus out to a turkey shoot to see if he could get a bird for Thanksgiving. He did win a turkey.

But—the missus won TWO turkeys!

Who would you say wore the guns in that family? And here this patrolman is supposed to be right good at rapid fire, too.

NEWS VIEWS

By GRANT O. PADGET

The pollsters and columnists are still trying to explain "Who' hoppen" with their election forecasts. Two months before election day Elmo Roper decided Dewey was so far ahead that it was a waste of time to ask any more questions. On November 1 the Gallup Poll had Dewey 5% ahead of Truman . . . and the Crossley Poll gave the G. O. P. an 8% margin. Apparently they asked the wrong people. The electorate trimmed the pollsters and columnists like a city slicker taking his country cousin. It was a self-funding debacle that caught the experts napping the other way. Looks as though their next question is, "What now?"

At Tanforan race track a horse named Pea Soup won the race and paid $216 for a $2 ticket . . . which is a quick way to make "gravy" out of Pea Soup. You'll be a "winner" too, if you patronize the spot that serves your needs best . . . we mean of course UNION MOTOR Co. Why not drive in tomorrow for that motor tune-up you've been putting off? Then, on Thanksgiving Day you can make that trip without worrying about the condition of your car. Phone: 129.—Adv.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Like the flow of lava from a bottomless volcano, the flood of personal reminiscences about the war continues. Far from abating, it promises to grow in volume.

Marquis Childs

The personal story of marine corps Lieut.-Gen. Holland M. Smith serially has stirred a hornet's nest of controversy. Smith revives the dispute over the conduct of the battle for Tarawa when he removed the army commander.

To answer the marine corps version of the battle, Secretary of Army Kenneth Royall opened the secret files. The army defends its commander at Tarawa, Maj.-Gen. Ralph Smith, pointing to two official judgments upholding the army Smith over the marine corps Smith.

Plainly here is another place where unification has worked not at all. This battle of the memoirs has in fact caused Secretary of Defense James Forrestal a lot of worry.

• • •

For weeks prior to publication, the Holland Smith story stirred a mimic warfare in the pentagon. Aware of the storm it would stir, Forrestal seriously considered ways and means of censoring the memoir. Smith is on the retired list.

What he came up against, however, is a major discrepancy between the services in this matter. A long standing army regulation provides that anything written by an officer, whether retired or not must be submitted for approval.

Thus Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose story of the allied command in the battle for Europe is also appearing serially, submitted his manuscript to the department for clearance. So have all other army officers writing for publication.

But navy and air force have no such regulation covering retired officers. So there was nothing Forrestal could do about the Holland (nickname: Howling Man) Smith story.

Discussing the implications of censorship both with officers and with civilians, Forrestal has contemplated an over-all rule applying to the three services. To restrict one and not the others is clearly unfair.

• • •

Whether the kind of censorship aimed at eliminating frictions between services and between allies is permissable in peacetime is the question troubling the secretary of defense. The reading public does not distinguish between retired officers and those on active duty. Sensational articles by retired air officers are mistaken for official policy.

It is a troublesome business and bound to cause unhappiness until it is resolved at the top. So long as the market remains good for this kind of personal narrative, no doubt all the principals be eager to tell all or nearly all.

Several principals are still to be heard from. Gen. Omar N. Bradley has tentatively begun his story of the European war, but he will be unable to publish until his four years tour of duty as chief of staff is ended.

Adm. Ernest King, chief of naval operations throughout the global conflict, has not yet given us his version, nor has Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to Roosevelt and Truman and a participant in every high-level conference.

• • •

Charles Bohlen, counsellor of the state department, is the only living American who knows exactly what Roosevelt and Stalin said to each other at Teheran and Yalta since he was interpreter for the President. Some time ago a magazine offered him a large sum for his story, but fortunately Bohlen, just about the ablest career officer in the department, said no.

One of the most fascinating narratives to appear thus far is Robert Sherwood's book about Harry L. Hopkins, based on the Hopkins papers. It contains more hitherto secret documents than anything yet published.

While he frankly admires Hopkins, Sherwood is, nevertheless, remarkably fair in his judgments, unlike the haters and villifiers who seem determined to prove that every American involved in the conduct of the war was wicked and traitorous.

A sidelight on the current musical revue in New York has a hot number on the best seller list called "I Typed the Atlantic Charter." It may get down to that if the appetite for the "inside" story of the war continues.

After all, it was the biggest war in history and some 12,000,000 Americans were directly involved most of whom felt themselves to be pretty small pieces in the puzzle. Now they want to try to catch up with what happened.

Bureau Chief Calls Parleys To Plan Work

BOISE, Nov. 20—Commissioner of Reclamation Michael W. Straus has instructed the regional office of the bureau of reclamation to initiate a series of field meetings with the corps of engineers to coordinate the plans of the two agencies for the comprehensive development of the Columbia river drainage basin, R. J. Newell, regional director, said today.

Maximum coordination of the long-range programs for land and water resources development is being sought by Commissioner Straus in accordance with the wishes of President Truman, Newell said.

Best Plan Asked

The President wrote Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug on Sept. 16 that he wished the corps of engineers and the bureau of reclamation to correlate their plans for the Columbia river basin "to the end that the best overall plan would be available for presentation by me to congress." He also requested that fullest coordination be attained with other affected agencies of the department of the interior, the department of agriculture, and the federal power commission. The President sent a similar letter to the secretary of the army.

The bureau of reclamation in 1947 completed its comprehensive plan for the development of water, land and other resources of the vast basin and the corps of engineers this month issued its so-called "308" report for the same area. Both plans call for the construction over a period of several decades of a large number of irrigation, multiple-purpose, and other projects, costing several billion dollars.

Discussions Held

Exploratory discussions on the problem have been held already in Washington, D. C., by the representatives of the headquarters offices of the bureau and the corps of engineers. Newell said that after preliminary steps toward coordination have been taken by the interior agencies and the corps of engineers, the matter will be considered by the Columbia basin inter-agency committee.

Coordination efforts in the field would, to a large extent, be devoted to the following, Newell explained:

(1) Coordination of views of specific sites for projects to be recommended for development in the respective reports of the two agencies, including agreement on the designated purposes of the projects.

(2) Coordination of views on the physical details of each project with a view to eliminating conflict in location, capacity, types of structure, etc.

(3) Coordination of recommendations as to the timing of construction of individual projects.

Jurisdiction Question

Newell said that, in addition to these three principal subjects for discussion, efforts would be made to settle the question of jurisdiction for the construction and operation for the majority of the projects to be constructed in the next 10 or 15 years. However, major policy statements on this phase of the coordination and on the basin-wide or project repayment to be put into effect may have to be worked out by the Washington, D. C., offices of the two organizations.

The record shows that the President originally requested a review of the long-range plans of the two agencies for the development of the Columbia river basin in the light of serious damage caused by last spring's unprecedented floods. This order, made June 1, was extended in scope by his Sept. 16 directive.

Bob Hoffmaster Elected Head Of Magic Mountain Ski Group

Bob Hoffmaster was elected president of the Magic Mountain Ski club at a meeting held Thursday night in the basement of the Sporter.

Other officers elected for the year include Robert Minshew, vice president; Marjorie Lash, secretary; Shirley Hoffmaster, treasurer, and Kermit Perrins, three-year member of the board of directors. Lloyd Shewmaker and Neil Weir will continue on the board of directors.

A report on the Intermountain Ski association meeting recently in Ogden was given by Bob Hoffmaster, who attended with Don Cryder and Fred Tuplin. A new constitution was drawn up as well as a new set of racing rules which will reduce racers, Hoffmaster said. These will be sent to ski clubs in the near future.

Retiring President Don Cryder announced that the lift house on Magic mountain has been rebuilt and the towers relocated.

A new parking area has been built at the foot of the Pike ski run, he said.

A junior ski meet will be held here Dec. 18 in which no one over 18 years of age may participate. Preparations will be made later for the race.

The club will hold regular meetings every two weeks during the winter season.

Chamber Manager Asks People To Help Open Events Calendar

Editor, Times-News:

For a long time the office of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce has been attempting to establish a calendar of major events scheduled for our community, with partial success.

It should be obvious to all of our citizens that this calendar of events is designed as a public service for a smoother operating community.

If the officers of each organization would select a date for their functions, regardless of whether it is a dance, an athletic event, a banquet, a convention or any gathering that needs the support of a large number of our citizens or the extensive use of the communities' facilities, and then call our office, our office force will be most happy to advise them of other events scheduled which might detract from their attendance.

In the matter of conventions for Twin Falls, every organization could attempt to bring conventions here. The best procedure to follow is to put in the bid for the convention and then check with the chamber office so that it can be determined if hotel and cabin space for the out-of-town visitors can be secured for that time.

We are informed by the people in the hotel and tourist court business that on week-ends more rooms are available for people attending conventions.

We ask the cooperation of the people in this regard.

Farmer-Hunter Raps Practice Of Stealing Dogs for Season

Editor, Times-News:

I would like to express my opinion in regard to the pet peeves of pheasant hunting. I am one of those farmers who loves to hunt. I don't mind too much raising and feeding the birds for supposedly good sports to shoot. But I don't feel as though my friends and I should furnish dogs for hunters.

My dog disappeared not long before the season opened. Today she was turned loose to return home. Could it be she ate too much and they couldn't afford to feed her until next season?

My friend would be glad to get his 6-month-old Llewellin pup back even if the season is over. He just brought him home from the vet hospital where he had a rather expensive operation. That explains the scar on his stomach.

So you see we like our dogs, be entire year and not just during the bird season.

We wish to extend special thanks to the school officials and the band members from Shoshone, Kimberly, Oakley, Filer and Gooding for accepting our invitation to participate in the parade and be our guests at the game.

It is the thought of the Bruin Booster club to bring other outstanding college games to Twin Falls next year for your entertainment.

Our thanks to the Times-News and all the newspapers in Magic Valley for the fine publicity received in their publications and to KVMV, KTFI and KLIX radio stations for their usually fine coverage.

We sincerely appreciate the cooperation of the Twin Falls high school officials for their important work to assure the success of the game.

With such fine cooperation from everyone, all things are possible.

Faith in Hunters Shattered as One Takes Family Dog

Editor, Times-News:

I have always had admiration for hunters and fishermen and encouraged them and tried to make them welcome on my river ranch. My faith in their good sportsmanship is shattered though, because one of them was mean enough to take our white and black Llewellin setter, Butch, last Sunday.

He is a good hunting dog but needs care because he is no longer young. I appeal for help to find this member of our family.

Tourist Says He Never Saw Auto Mishap on Jaunt

Editor, Times-News:

I just got back from a 5,000-mile trip through Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Utah, and I never saw a single accident. What is the matter with Idaho. Is it just absent-minded or don't we realize that speed is dangerous and costly?

Stop and think this over. I have been driving a car for 36 years and I have never had an accident. Do you know why? I keep one safety eye on the road and I never let a back seat driver excite me. If I see a man coming toward me and he is taking most of the road I just let him have it. If he is speeding, I slow down until I see what he is going to do. I stop at all stop signs and I don't look to see if anyone is coming until I stop. Then, if all is clear, I change gears and go on my way.

I will not drive a car with poor brakes. The highways in Idaho are all well marked. If there are any danger spots the markers will tell you, so why not read them as you drive?

It is not smart to run through a stop sign or try to take all the road. If you act smart while you are driving, you only cause the man that sees you to call you bad names. When a man loses respect for himself he has no respect for his fellow men.

Our highways are not too good but you can slow down when you come to the rough spots. You can do that easier than taking the other side of the road and causing a wreck. Stay on your side of the road and you will live longer and find it cheaper.

Peace for World Depends on You, Woman Suggests

Editor, Times-News:

I am not much of a writer, but my heart almost stands still if I hear the nation cry. Let us bring peace in this troubled world.

As long as we are all not trying to get that selfishness, hatefulness and jealousy out of our hearts and we are not trying our very best to open that door to peace, there will never be any peace in this troubled world.

If you do not understand this, I will gladly explain if you will call on me. I'm a real, old-fashioned Bible reader.

Gaily decorated booths were managed by students and one by faculty members Joe Johnsen and John Mitchell. Vern R. Thomas served as finance advisor, Ted Brush, ticket sales, and Ted Cloer, ticket make-up.

Food sales were directed by the girls' club with Mrs. Leslie Sweet, home economics teacher, as advisor.

Do Something to Limit Speeding, Writer Suggests

Editor, Times-News:

Some of the clubs of Twin Falls county have made a resolution to petition legislators to pass a law to limit speed on highways of Idaho to 40 miles per hour. Something must be done about this high speed.

When a car will skid 150 feet and turn over four or five times it must be going too fast to be on the highway. A total of 164 deaths the first 10 months of 1948 is good proof against high speed on the highways of Idaho.

Brother Tells Death Escape From Bullets

FILER, Nov. 20—A narrow escape from death was reported by Earl Hammerquist, former Filer resident, in a letter received here by his brother, H. E. Hammerquist.

Bullets ripped through his clothing, he wrote, when he tried to stop a car thief Monday in front of his home in Eugene, Ore. Hammerquist was raking leaves when a Cadillac stopped nearby, a man got out of it and shouted for help.

Before Hammerquist could get there, a second man in the car fired four shots at the other man and, seeing Hammerquist approaching, fired two shots at him.

As the story later developed, one man had asked the other for a demonstration of the car. During the demonstration he pulled a gun on the car salesman and ordered him to drive to a certain location.

The car salesman refused, stopped the car and was fired upon by the gunman, who escaped with the car. The car thief was last seen at a service station where he left without paying for the gasoline.

The salesman was hospitalized for his injuries. Hammerquist was uninjured.

Difficulty Delays Lamb Pool's Sale

Difficulty in disposing of a pool shipment of lambs has been experienced for the first time this year, according to C. W. Dalch, secretary of the Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association.

A total of 600 head was shipped Tuesday to Ogden, Utah, Dalgh said. He was notified Thursday they had not been sold. Dalch quoted a figure and gave instructions the shipment was to be sent to Omaha, Nebr., if not sold at that price.

Definite word is not expected for a few days, Dalch said. The shipment was one of the largest made this season. Largest was on July 7, when 795 head were shipped.

Joslin Field's Fire Truck is Ready for Use

The latest addition to the Twin Falls fire department, a new fire truck for Joslin field, has never been to a fire, according to E. H. Freelove, fire chief.

The crash truck, one of four similar vehicles in the United States, will remain in town for emergency calls until suitable arrangements have been made at the airport, Freelove said.

Modern Equipment

The most modern equipment for aircraft fires and crashes has been installed in the eight ton truck including two pumps, one centrifugal pump which pumps 250 gallons of water per minute, and a high pressure piston pump which pumps 60 gallons per minute at 850 pounds pressure.

Four hundred gallons of water are carried in the truck. There is 500 feet of two and one-half inch hore, 200 feet of one and one-half inch hose, and 400 feet of three-fourth inch fog hose.

Foam Equipment

Foam equipment has been installed for oil or gas fires, as well as a first aid kit, burn kit, and two fireproof blankets.

A small portable cutting torch will be used for forcible entry into planes. The truck also will carry a special crash kit, crash ax, and other tools.

Although there are few crash trucks serving airports in the United States, all fields receiving main line air travel will be required to have one.

Judgment Is Won By State in Suit

A consent judgment was awarded to the state of Idaho Friday in Judge James W. Porter's district court against Mary Aylsworth, Anna Kurtz and Albert Berreth.

The defence sought to have the title to real property in Twin Falls remain in the names of Mary Aylsworth, Anna Kurtz and Albert Berreth and have the department of public assistance get a first lien on the property to be foreclosed after the death of the survivors of Peter Berreth and Mary Berreth.

The court agreed and issued the necessary order.

Dates Slated for Court's Sessions

Opening dates for next years' court terms in the four counties of the 11th judicial district were set in an order signed Friday by District Judge James W. Porter, senior judge for the district.

Next year's court terms will open Jan. 17, May 2 and Sept. 19 in Cassia county; Feb. 28, May 23 and Oct. 17 in Jerome county; Feb. 7, June 13 and Nov. 14 in Minidoka county, and Jan. 24, April 18 and Sept. 12 in Twin Falls county.

Joslin Field Crash Truck Ready for Duty

The new crash truck purchased for use at Joslin field is ready for operation. Most modern equipment available is installed in the truck shown in photo at top. In bottom photo, firemen lay down a water barrage from four hoses attached to the truck. Left to right are Fire Chief E. H. Freelove, Lieut. George Mann, Leland Cunningham, Assistant Chief Bob Miller and Earl Bryson. Lieutenant Mann will be in charge of the airport crash truck. (Photos by Helen Tucker-staff engravings)

Payment of $450 Is Asked in Court Suit

Suit to collect $450 allegedly due in wages was filed Saturday in probate court by Olga Ogburn against Ely L. Barron.

Her complaint states she was employed as a cook in the Pastime cafe, Castleford, between Sept. 27 and Nov. 13 at the rate of $10 a day.

She also seeks court costs and expenses. Representing her are Rayborn and Rayborn.

Man Jailed

Nick Williams, Buhl, was sentenced Friday in probate court to serve 10 days in the county jail on a charge of "intoxication due to excessive use of alcohol."

The complaint charged Williams remained under the influence of intoxicating liquor for the appreciable period Nov. 8 to Nov. 15 on a ranch north of Buhl.

Credit Cards Available for Use on Plane

Richard Ferris, Empire Air lines resident manager here, has received the first of the new credit cards issued under Empire credit card plan.

Ferris said the acceptance of this new credit plan has surpassed the company's hopes by a wide margin. Several prominent businessmen throughout the inland empire already have made application for their credit cards and each mail is bringing additional requests.

This credit plan is another in a series of new services designed by the airline industry in an effort to broaden the utility of air transportation to the businessman.

The Empire plan has one outstanding advantage in that the company is not requiring any deposit. Other type credit plans require a $425 deposit before credit is extended. The company believes that the elimination of the cash deposit is in the interest of the average businessman.

Rexburg Man Featured for Demos' Rally

JEROME, Nov 20—Claude Bartenshaw, professor of political science at Ricks college, Rexburg, was main speaker at the Democratic victory banquet Thursday night in the banquet room at Wood's cafe. Sponsored by the Jerome Democratic central committee with Glen Bining as toastchairman, the banquet was attended by 160 people.

In his speech on political science as applied to changes democracy must make from time to time, Bartenshaw stressed the fact that parties must keep up with the times.

Urges Changes

"When changes are necessary within a party, they should be made," he said. "Unless they are made there will be no democracy."

R. L. Summerfield, Twin Falls, spoke on unity and harmony in the Democratic party, listing reasons that cause disunity; he said individuals with personal axes to grind were detrimental to the party.

Fuel for Opposition

"Also," he added, "in the primary election the amount of name calling done by two candidates in the same party furnishes the opposition with fuel."

Matters of party concern should be cleared through the state party chairman, he concluded.

Other officials present at the banquet were Ed Brennan, Pocatello, state chairman of the Democratic party for Idaho; Vere Swope, Boise, state vice chairman; Dan Cavanagh, Twin Falls, national committeeman; and Galen Hall, Jerome, state chairman of Young Democrats.

Toastmaster

O. W. William, Jerome, served as toastmaster.

Two sessions were conducted in the afternoon and separate meetings were held by senators-elect and committeemen. Eight counties were represented including Blaine, Lincoln, Camas, Gooding, Twin Falls, Minidoka, Cassia and Jerome.

Bert H. Miller, United States senator-elect from Boise, was unable to attend.

KETCHUM, Nov. 20 — Mr. and Mrs. Andy Ward have returned from Nevada. Accompanying them for a short visit were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cochrane.

Burley Rotarians Devote Program To Area College

SOUTHERN COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Albion, Nov. 20—The last meeting of the Burley Rotary club was dedicated to the Southern Idaho College of Education with students and faculty members presenting the program.

Numbers on the program included four selections by the Glee club, two vocal solos by Eleanor Pierce, and talks by M. Alvin Kempton, head of the English and speech department, and Meredith McVicker, director of the training school.

Kempton outlined the story of the development of the college from its beginning as a normal school to its present status as a four-year college of education. He pointed out that SICE is a fully accredited college and is a member of the Northwest Association of Colleges and Schools and the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

McVicker declared that the training school is the heart of a teachers' college, that students are able to observe the growth and development, playing and working of children ever-present on the campus. He noted that students are able to do apprentice teaching under expert guidance.

Exhibited in the dining room were pictures of scenic views and student activities on the SICE campus.

BOY RETURNED HOME

GLENNS FERRY, Nov. 20 Rufus Collins, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins, has been returned to his home from St. Alphonsus hospital in Boise where he spent 10 weeks for treatment of injuries sustained Sept. 5 when he was kicked by a horse.

Adviser Says Vet Insurance Still Available

National service life insurance is still available to most World war II veterans even though they did not take out a policy while in the service.

Don A. Duvall, veterans administration contact representative, said any veteran who served honorably between Oct. 8, 1940, and Sept. 3, 1945, and did not hold a GI policy is eligible to apply to the VA for new insurance.

These veterans must pass an insurance physical examination and pay one monthly premium in order to put the insurance in force. Veterans who previously held GI term insurance but have let it lapse more than three months also must take a physical examination and pay two monthly premiums to put it back in force.

Insurance physical examinations may be obtained free of charge at any VA hospital or clinic, or veterans may obtain them at their own expense from a private physician. Proper forms for applying for new insurance or reinstatement of old policies may be obtained from any VA office or the service officer of a veterans organization, Duvall said.

GI insurance may be held in any amount from $1,000 to $10,000, in multiples of $500. It may be carried under either the low-cost five-year term plan or any one or combination of the six permanent types of policies now available.

Name of Pool Suggested by Jaycee Group

BURLEY, Nov. 20 — The Burley Junior Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution Thursday asking that the new Burley community swimming pool, for which the Jaycees are raising funds, be known as "Cassia County War Memorial Pool."

The resolution, as presented by Don Grayot, past president and swimming pool construction chairman, reads:

"Whereas Cassia county does not now have a war memorial commemorating those men and women who gave their lives to the cause of peace in World war II, and whereas the Burley community swimming pool will be of service to all of Cassia county, it is hereby resolved that the said Burley community swimming pool be henceforth known as the Cassia County War Memorial Pool, and it shall be the responsibility of the Burley Junior Chamber of Commerce to see that an appropriate bronze plaque with the names of Cassia county's World war II dead inscribed thereon be placed at the entrance of the pool in order that the cause for which these heroes gave their lives shall not be forgotten and that their sacrifice shall be forever commemorated by a living memorial."

The job of raising $50,000 for the new pool was undertaken by the Jaycees last fall, and each organization in Burley is planning to have some project to raise funds for the pool. The community plans to start construction next spring, and the city of Burley will operate the pool after it is completed. The pool will be constructed at the new recreation park west of the city.

President Sherman Anderson conducted the meeting.

Judge Orders Tucker Probe On Solvency

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (U.P.)—Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe today set Dec. 17 for a hearing on whether the Tucker Automobile corporation is bankrupt.

Igoe yesterday over-ruled a motion to dismiss a stockholder's suit which charges that the firm is insolvent.

Ask Injunction

Stockholders asked for an injunction to prohibit company President Preston Tucker, who hopes to produce a new rear-engine car, from disposing of any of the firm's assets pending the hearing. Igoe denied the injunction petition as unnecessary.

Charge Mismanagement

The stockholders charged that the company has been mismanaged and should be placed in the hands of a receiver. Company attorneys argued that the plaintiffs had failed to seek a remedy for the alleged mismanagement by appealing to the board of directors.

Suing are Edward Hrubant and Vito Locovara, and co-partners Edward L. Story and Thomas Vinella, holders of a distributor's franchise.

Their attorney, Louis Kutner, said Tucker does not have an assembly line and "has left less than 100 employes—we must stop him before he further reduces the assets." Tucker's own financial report, Kutner said, shows the firm is now nearly $1,000,000 in the red.

Shoshone Holds Three-Act Play

SHOSHONE, Nov. 20—"Then and Now," a three-act play, was presented at Shoshone high school gymnasium by the Parent-Teachers association. Piano students of Bernice Brusen participated.

Taking part in the play were Marcella Brookbank, Bert Brookbank, Billy Silva, Billy Wilson, Allen Thorne, Sharon Martin, Marsha Adkins, Bert Myers and Gail Granden. All of them presented musical solos.

Mrs. Ruth Chess and Miss Brusen played on two pianos, Grieg's Allegro Morerato from A minor Concerto.

A gift of appreciation from the students was presented to Miss Brusen by Marcella Brookbank. Mrs. Margaret Solcago and Mrs. Josephine Lequerica served refreshments in the home economics rooms after a talk was given on the Blue Cross hospital plan.

Planned Building Decreases Here

Construction costs, as estimated on building permit applications, dropped to $20,840 last week, a little more than half the previous week's figure. Ten applications were filed, six of them for alterations, additions and repairs to existing residences, for $4,340.

One application for a $15,000 store building accounted for the largest share of the week's estimated construction costs. One application was filed for new residential construction to cost $300, and two for remodeling commercial structures at $1,200.

New Drugstore Is Damaged in Blaze

BUHL, Nov. 20—Fire broke out in the rear portion of the Sav-Mor drugstore at 3:30 p.m. Friday but was extinguished almost immediately by local firemen, officials said.

Although there was little fire damage, considerable smoke and water damage was reported to the interior of the newly painted building. Opening date of the drugstore had been set for Dec. 1.

Firemen attributed the blaze to a trash fire behind the building. Officials said Saturday that no estimate had been made of the damage.

LET'S RAISE BROILERS

Many farmers in the intermountain area have found it profitable to raise a flock of broilers, and you too may be interested if you know the facts. It does not involve a great amount of operating expense for buildings and equipment and if interested finance can be arranged to cover your feeding costs for the entire period. If you have an old building not in use we suggest that you convert it into a brooder and start raising a flock of broilers at once. Any building and in many cases sheep sheds have been used to good advantage with very little additional cost of repair.

We suggest that you come in and talk the matter over with us. We are in a position to furnish you with a broiler type baby chick, a good Broiler Feeding Mash at a reasonable price and to assist you in your financing if necessary.

Come in and see us today. We are in the market on a year 'round basis for good broilers and you may be able to help us and realize a nice profit for your efforts.

Baptist Churches Plan Continuance Of Area Crusade

At the final meeting of Baptist ministers engaged in the 10-day cooperative Crusade in Evangelism it was indicated that nearly all of the six churches participating in the program plan to continue the Crusade emphasis by giving at least one night a month to friendly visitation upon friends of the church in their communities.

The pastors and their visiting ministers were enthusiastic about the intensive program conducted last week. It is expected some 50 people will be uniting with the Crusade churches as a result of the work so far.

The 10-day period of the Crusade will close with the service at each church Sunday evening. Residents of Twin Falls, Buhl, Castleford, Jerome, Gooding and Filer are invited to attend the meetings Sunday in their local Baptist churches.

CIO Revokes Unit Charter On Red Count

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20 (U.P.)—The CIO executive board today revoked the charter of the New York city CIO council on the ground that this body has given "slavish adherence" to the Communist party line.

The decision, which CIO President Philip Murray said was by a vote of 38 to 5, ends the case.

Will Not Appeal

In a joint statement James Durkin, president of the New York city council, and Saul Mills, executive secretary, said they will not appeal the verdict to the CIO convention next week.

They denied the charges of Communist party dictation.

Later, CIO officers will determine when to issue a charter to a new council and will set a time for election of officers.

Effective Immediately

The board's decision takes effect immediately.

Officials of the New York city council stirred up CIO wrath when they failed to reject Henry Wallace's third party and neglected to endorse the Marshall plan of aiding European countries.

The race is nationally important because it is a major test in the continuing warfare between the right and left wings of the CIO.

Saboteur

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Why didn't the revenooers get their man? Well, seems there was this bear who knew bad whisky when he tasted it.

While alcohol tax unit agents hid in waiting for the owner of a Tennessee still they had just found, the bear, "big and black," lumbered out of the forest and decided to sample the product.

He rolled it around his tongue, according to the report filed at the internal revenue bureau, took another startled taste—and smashed the still to pieces.

Their evidence destroyed, the revenue men went home.

Judge Hears Suit On Title to Land

Trial of a civil action brought by John W. Lents against Charles M. Parrish over title to real property in Buhl was held in district court Saturday. After hearing the testimony of seven witnesses, Judge Hugh A. Baker took the case under advisement and gave the attorneys a total of 25 days in which to submit briefs.

Called to testify were Lents, Martha A. Watson, Earl Clements, Jess O. Eastman, J. R. Gafford and Mr. and Mrs. Parrish. Lents was represented by J. W. Taylor, and Parrish's attorney was Frank L. Stephan.

Jury trials will resume in district court Monday when a damage suit brought by the Sego Milk company against Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Vincent will be tried.

Gun, 'Slot' Funds Lost in Burglary

KEDEN, Nov. 20—Jerome county sheriff's officers are investigating the burglary of the pool hall owned by Jay Blevins here.

Blevins discovered the break-in when he opened his place Saturday morning. The place had been ransacked, but only a .32 caliber automatic pistol and $20 to $25 from a slot machine were missing, Sheriff Galen Hall, who investigated, said.

Entry had been gained by prying off the door lock with a heavy bar. Sheriff Hall estimated the burglary took place about 3 a.m. He has several suspects, he said.

Approximately 20 per cent of gainfully employed people in the United States are engaged in agriculture, forestry and fishing combined.

RNA Group Observes Organization's Founding

In observance of the 50th anniversary of the Royal Neighbors of America, the local club held its annual Thanksgiving potluck dinner Friday evening.

Mrs. Lena Kunkle spoke on "Meaning of the Organization."

She said nine women founded the Royal Neighbors of America in November, 1888, in Council Bluffs, Ia. The organization has developed into one of the leading fraternal life insurance organizations in the United States, she said.

She went on to say that the organization is run almost entirely by women although men are eligible to belong.

Seven new members from Buhl and one from Twin Falls were initiated. Eleven people from Buhl attended the dinner.

Following the initiation, pinochle was played with high prize in the women's division going to Mrs. Elva Olsen and low prize being awarded to Mrs. Minnie Adams. For the men, Grant Kunkle won high prize and Joe Gassner received low prize.

SOUTHERN IDAHO GRIDMEN CAPTURE FOOTBALL LOOP TITLE

Panthers End Year In Win Over NICE

GLENNS FERRY, Nov. 20—Southern Idaho's Panther grid machine, champions of the newly formed Intermountain Collegiate Athletic conference, ended its 1948 football schedule here this afternoon by turning back a spirited Northern Idaho team 14-0.

The Panthers had the conference title handed to them Friday when Weber college defeated the previous loop leader, Utah Branch Aggies, 27-0.

Score in First

First score came midway in the first quarter when Gene Bledsoe skirted around end on a power play for eight yards. The score was set up on a series of line bucks from the middle of the field.

Fullback John Elordi, Glenns Ferry, split the uprights for the extra point.

The Panthers came back again in the third quarter to tally. Art House, Hailey, blocked a Lewiston punt on the Logger 25-yard stripe and Lloyd Bledsoe, Buhl, picked the ball up and ran it over for the score. Elordi converted for the extra point.

Longest Runs

Gene Bledsoe and Bell made the longest runs of the game with 35 and 30-yard gains, respectively. Bledsoe's run took the ball to the NICE's two, but penalties and a stubborn Lewiston line held the Panthers.

Northern Idaho punted and Bell ran the ball back to the three-yard line. Elordi fumbled the ball on the next play and NICE recovered.

Both coaches played their entire traveling squads in the contests.

NICE Ends Strong

Although outplayed badly in the first half, NICE came back strong in the second half to make nine of its 11 first downs. The Albion gridmen made 11 of the 18 first downs in the first half.

SICE attempted 11 passes and completed three and NICE attempted 26 and completed four. Both teams intercepted one pass.

NICE halfback Magini was the star of the ball game. The slippery back was the leading ground gainer of the contest.

Boise Ineligible

Even though Boise Junior college is unbeaten in the Intermountain league, the loop title went to the Panthers. Boise failed to schedule the required four games to be eligible for the title.

Boise won three straight games in the league including one over SICE 13-12. SICE finished the season with three conference wins and one defeat. That was good enough to beat Utah Branch Aggies and Snow college each with three wins, one loss and one tie.

Nine in League

The nine-team conference is playing its first season. It is made up of junior colleges and smaller four-year schools in Utah and southern Idaho.

Teams in the league are SICE, Boise Junior college, Utah Branch Aggies, Snow college, Weber college, Ricks college, Carbon college, Westminister college and DIXie college.

Starting lineups in the SICE-NICE game included:

SICE	Pos.	NICE
Gamble	LE	Stranger
Wood	LT	R. Marden
Boelsch	LG	Middlebush
Sisson	C	Marsh
Eccle	RG	Morgan
Stewart	RT	W. Marden

Bruins Edged by USC Team 20-13

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20 (AP)—Southern California's Trojans and the Bruins of UCLA brought a bitter cross town rivalry onto the Coliseum greensward today and the favored Trojs ground out a 20 to 13 triumph before 76,577 wildly excited followers.

A powerful, relentless Trojan running attack, plus one costly UCLA penalty at a strategic moment, spelled the difference, but the underdog Bruins made a battle of it all the way.

The loss was the seventh this season and wound up the Bruins' 1948 campaign.

Cage Leagues To Set Plans At Meetings

Two meetings to set plans for basketball seasons in Magic Valley will be held Monday evening, Directors of the South Central Idaho Major league will meet at 8 p. m. in Jerome and members of the Minor Outlaw league will meet at 8 p. m. in Twin Falls.

Initial plans for the major loop were made last Tuesday in Jerome. Directors set the season from Dec. 1 to Feb. 1 and accepted the application of Gooding Elks for membership in the league.

The major loop is slated to adopt a schedule for its 10 teams Monday. Earl Williams, Eden, secretary of the league, said attendance of all franchise holders is required.

Four Veteran Cagers Return To ISC Squad

POCATELLO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Idaho State college has only four letter-men for the coming basketball season. It lost players who accounted for 1,006 of the 1,326 points the team scored in 27 games last season.

Ed Willett, who lifted Western State college of Gunnison, Colo., to eight victories in 22 games last year, has taken over as Bengal basketball coach.

Idaho State lost its scoring ace—Murray Satterfield—when he transferred to Utah. He amassed 458 points, or an average of 16.7

Clare Pauls, second high scorer, went to Utah State to complete his course in engineering. Herb Booth, a strong defense man in 1947-48, gave up basketball because of his health.

Coach Willett's four "I" men are George Keil, Al Kirlin, Dick Morris and Wally Farnes. Pete Richardson and Byron Jones, squadmen, are back.

Idaho State has a 26-game schedule, one less than last season when it won 12 and lost 15.

The Bengals open against Brigham Young university with a two-game stand in Pocatello Nov. 26 and 27. The other foes are:

Hunt Ends on Rooster Pheasants

Rooster pheasant hunting in all of Magic Valley ends at sundown today. However, a special hen pheasant control hunt will be staged Monday in Gooding county only.

Pheasant hunting closes in Jerome, Lincoln, Blaine, Gooding and Elmore counties.

Conservation officers throughout the valley have described the season as being fair. The largest crop of birds since the end of the war was on hand for sentiergun artists this year.

The rooster pheasant season in Twin Falls, Minidoka and Cassia counties ended Nov. 14. A fair season was reported in those counties.

Elmore county season originally had been scheduled to remain open until Nov. 30, was shortened by state fish and game department officials because of a shortage of birds. All of Camas county was closed to hunting.

All of southwestern Idaho will remain open to rooster pheasant shooting until Nov. 30.

Pheasant hunting was at its best on the Hunt wildlife area in Gooding county. P. J. McDermott, Jerome, district conservation officer, said.

He pointed out the season in the county had attracted large numbers of hunters. He said he expects even larger numbers of hunters to take to the fields today.

Hundreds of mallards are expected to be on hand for the last day of the season from the south side, eastern Idaho and the Pocatello area. Eastern Idaho pheasant hunting closed Nov. 11.

Bag limit for the hen hunt in Gooding county will be two birds. No restrictions have been set on the time birds can be hunted, McDermott said.

Results of Nation's Grid Tilts Leave Bowl Choices to Faculties

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Michigan, Northwestern, Minnesota, Oregon and California all won football games today, leaving determination of the Rose bowl rivals to a vote of faculty representatives Monday. But no matter how the faculty fathers decide on their $250,000 question, they will not be able to cause any more consternation than was turned in on the playing fields today.

Once mighty Pittsburgh revelled against its recent occupation of football doormat and defeated Penn State 7 to 0. Nick Bolkovac intercepted a Penn State pass late in the fourth quarter and hiked 29 yards for the touchdown that probably cost the loser a $100,000 bowl bid. It was the first Penn State defeat in 17 games.

LSU Dumps Alabama

Louisiana State, battered six times in eight starts, licked its bruises today with a 26 to 0 upset of Alabama. Three surprises were mixed among the games on a nationwide schedule that also saw a national collegiate record set for punt returns and a guard retain a broken spine while trying to route and win quick delivery of an automobile.

The punt return mark was set by Lee Nadler of Vanderbilt, who brought back two kicks for 16 yards. That brought his season's total to 623 yards, seven more than the old mark. Vandy beat Maryland today, 34 to 0.

Stopped in Try

It was Hay, McKinnon of Georgia Tech, who received the broken auto. The Yellow Jacket open-field delivery of a car if he scored. When Tech was well on its way to it, 42 to 0 win over the Citadel, McKinnon became the individual carried. After several futile tries he was injured.

Michigan took to the air to bet down Ohio State 49 to 3 and retain the Big Nine championship. Northwestern gloated out its 20 to 7 triumph over Illinois for second place while Minnesota pounded Wisconsin 46 to 0.

With Michigan barred from the Rose bowl by the rules of the mid-west-east conference tieup, the Big Nine fathers now await vote on either Minnesota or Northwestern to carry the banner on Jan. 1. The Evanston Wildcats, however, are clear cut runners-up to Michigan and likely nominees for the trip.

But all is not so clear in the Pacific Coast conference where Oregon and California both wound up their schedules undefeated in the coast circuit. California squeezed past Stanford 7 to 6, and Oregon blanken Oregon State 10 to 0.

Titles Are Won

Oklahoma and Southern Methodist also clinched conference titles although the Texas Mustangs can be tied for the laurels in the southwest circuit. Southern Methodist again waited until late in the game to subdue Baylor 13 to 6, but Oklahoma started from the kickoff to murder Kansas 60 to 7. That gave the Sooners the Big Seven crown.

William and Mary was the major school to accept a bowl bid. The Virginians drubbed North Carolina State 26 to 6, and will appear in the Delta bowl in Memphis on Jan. 1. Clemson, another Southern conference power, remained unbeaten with a 42 to 0 conquest of Duquesne and North Carolina stopped Duke, 20 to 0. Each of the victors is a bowl possibility.

Harvard Beats Yale

With only tradition at stake, Harvard smarted the 20 to 7 verdict over Yale in the granddaddy of all football rivalries.

But the big three has fallen on evil days. Princeton, the third member, was buried by Dartmouth, 33 to 13, for the big green's sweep of games with the venerable threesome.

Story Claims Nevada Threw Football Game

RENO, Nev., Nov. 20 (AP)—Officials of the University of Nevada today studied an article in a national sports weekly charging that the Nevada football team "threw" its game against Santa Clara in order to let the gamblers win.

Football Coach Joe Sheckelski and Harry Ford, chairman of the board of athletic control, said they were "studying the story very carefully and very thoroughly." They said they had no comment to make "at this time."

Meanwhile, the collegiate newspaper of the school, the Sagebrush, demanded editorially that university officials "take action" against the article weekly fog the article.

The accusations against the Nevada Wolfpack appeared in a nationally-circulated sports newspaper, The Sports-Week. In an article jacked by a staff writer, Dan Freeberg.

The article said Reno gamblers gave $20,000 as "a direct subsidy to the university and planted their $50,000-to-$75,000 nest egg squarely behind the ostensibly noble purpose of building a national gridiron power."

Nevada's 14 to 6 loss to Santa Clara on Nov. 7 saddened everyone in Reno, the article alleged, except an "exclusive group of bookies who were on the 'in' and a few dozen assorted Nevada football players, who were on their payroll."

By the latter, the story explained, it meant several players—including All-America candidate Stan Heath —who at said area weekly paychecks from gambling clubs at the present time for working in the casinos.

MONTANA WINS

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 20 (AP)—Montana's Grizzlies punched across five first half touchdowns on long runs and passes and rolled on to a 47 triumph over North Dakota today.

Washington Passes Crush Vandals in Last Contest

SEATTLE, Nov. 20 (AP)—A passing game that was mislaid in October came back to Washington today and the Huskies celebrated with five touchdown flips to crush Idaho 34 to 7. The second Pacific Coast conference victory of the season for Washington was seen by only 20,000 fans. They got an unexpected surprise when four passers did a needle-threading job with a wet ball and the receivers were ready and plentiful.

Idaho, definitely outgunned, uncorked an overhead game of its own in the third stanza and winged 72 yards to a touchdown, but it was only a futile gesture by that time.

Vandals Threaten

Washington, after fighting off a first-quarter threat by the Vandals, had pitched three touchdown passes in the second quarter and another at the start of the third. The final tally came in the closing quarter with Washington subs doing the work. Mike Scanlan, 144-pound sub quarterback, tossed 11 yards to sub end Erling Johnson for the last score of the season on the Huskies home field.

Whitey Kiuk, who started the year as a quarterback and was slowed by an ankle injury, returned to the ball-handling spot and shotgunned the first two scoring passes. Five minutes into the second quarter he dropped one into the arms of Gordy Hungar good for 25 yards and a 22-yard flip to Marshall Dallas, who caught it on the Idaho 15 and raced the last white line unmolested.

Idaho Fumbles

In less than a minute Washington had its third touchdown. Idaho fumbled the kickoff, center Mike Michael recovered for Washington, and Arne McCullough passed 34 yards to Dallas on the Idaho 14. Roland Kirkby, passing on the dead run, hit Dallas with a strike for the counter. Jim Rosenzweig placekicked four of Washington's five conversion chances.

Idaho got to the husky three in the opening quarter, suffered two five-yard penalties and finally gave up the ball on downs. Whipped all foot, and the team that was supposed to lose by several touchdowns, trailed, 7-0.

Bears Squeeze Past Determined Stanford

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 20 (AP)—California's Bears squeezed by an inspired Stanford football team 7-6 today to keep their Rose bowl chances alive by the margin of a single tally.

While more than 80,000 fans gripped their seats in excitement during a thrill-filled game, the big Bears, 6-1 favorites and expected to win by 20 or more points, fought their toughest battle of the season.

After yielding a first period touchdown, the Indians came back to fight the Bears to a standstill. A recovered fumble led to Stanford's third period touchdown.

California's Jim Cullom won the tight game for his school. The Bear tackle busted the ball through the uprights after Stanford halfback Dick Swaner had scored five minutes after the opening kickoff. It was Cullom's 21-yard try for the last score of the season on the Huskies home field.

Whitey Kiuk, who started the year as a quarterback and was slowed by an ankle injury, returned to the ball-handling spot and shotgunned the first two scoring passes. Five minutes into the second quarter he dropped one into the arms of Gordy Hungar good for 25 yards and a 22-yard flip to Marshall Dallas, who caught it on the Idaho 15 and raced the last white line unmolested.

The Indians actually outplayed the Bears for a goodly part of the game.

The Indians made good in the third period, when fullback Bill DeYoung recovered Jensen's fumble on California's 22-yard line. Three plunges at the line put the oval 11 yards from the goal. Sophomore quarterback Tom Shaw connected with a jump pass over the line to right end Ben Rose. The latter pounded five yards, dragging a couple of Bears with him.

Quarterback Aubrey Devine, a left-footed kicker, tried the placement. But the ball slithered off his foot, and the team that was supposed to lose by several touchdowns, trailed, 7-0.

The Indians actually outplayed the Bears for a goodly part of the game.

PAUL, ALBION CAPTURE FOOTBALL CROWNS IN POTATO BOWL

Rugged Teams Win Titles On Snow-Covered Gridiron

Powerful Paul and Albion high school teams were crowned Magic Valley class B football champions here Friday after winning contests in the annual Times-News sponsored Potato bowl. The games were played on snow-covered Lincoln field. Paul captured the 11-man crown by downing previously undefeated Glenns Ferry 6-0, and Albion won the six-man title by rolling over Dietrich 33-7.

Although hampered by a slick field and flurries of snow, Coach Harold Brown's Paul squad displayed a tricky offense and a determined defense in beating the Pilots.

The Panthers pushed over a first quarter touchdown on a pass from halfback Bob Clark to halfback Ernest Struber. The play covered 15 yards.

Paul was forced to muster all of its defensive strength to hold off the charging Pilots. Three times Paul made goal line stands within their five-yard line.

Little 135-pound Evan Merrill sparked the Paul attack. He gained ground constantly through the big Glenns Ferry forward wall.

The Paul score was set up when Struber recovered halfback Von Spangler's fumble on the Pilot 30-yard line. Merrill charged through the goal line to take the ball to the 15-yard line where a pass resulted in the score. Harper's conversion attempt was wide.

Spangler highlighted the play for the Glenns Ferry team. His brilliant running carried most of the Pilot's drives.

Except when Merrill broke away for a 20-yard gain and Struber made 40 yards on a run, the Pilots held Paul in check for most of the game.

Both teams were hampered by the slick field.

Coach Ernie Kuen's Pilots won the 11-man championship in 1947.

A chilled crowd of about 300 spectators came to their feet on the opening play of the six-man battle between Albion and Dietrich. Halfback Ed Sexton took the Albion kickoff and raced 70 yards for Dietrich's only score.

The Albion team came back, however, to tally points in every quarter.

The first Panther score came on a safety when Rulon Darrington tackled Sexton behind his goal after the Dietrich back took a long Albion punt.

Dietrich still led 7-2 when the Albion team roared back to push over two touchdowns on a tricky play. Passes from Mark Esmea to Darrington and then a lateral to Dale Asher did the trick.

Gerald Brackenberry tallied for Albion in the second quarter on an off-tackle slant good for 20 yards. Albion led 20-7 at the half.

Lynn Pettingill scored early in the third quarter after taking a shovel pass from Asher and sprinting down the sidelines 30 yards. Final Albion score came when Tracy intercepted a pass from Sexton and raced 75 the end zone.

Coach Ollie Bate's Dietrich team was never a real threat to the Albion gridders. The Panthers were undefeated in seven league games this year.

Coaches Mike Cochiaves and Paige Lake, both students at the Southern Idaho College of Education, had kept the Albion team in good shape since the end of their season on Oct. 22.

2,000 Sugar Bowl Fans Wait Hours For Grid Tickets

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20 (AP)—Nearly 2,000 determined Sugar bowl fans camped overnight in a long, whipping line outside Tulane stadium to be on hand today for the first and probably the only public ticket sale.

Forming serpentine line snaking down the sidewalk displayed an array of blankets, coats, playing cards, sandwiches, parkas, fleece-lined jackets and party-like noise of builders.

A passerby remarked sleepy, all that for a football game and they don't even know what teams are going to play?

And he's right. Frank Schmidt, president of the sponsoring Mid-winter Sports association, said yesterday it is possible an announcement of teams bound for Dixie won't come until after the final scores are in on Nov. 27.

Ducats will cost $10.24 for top end zone seats, or $44.14 for two combinations which will admit two to the game and all other events on the Sugar bowl sports calendar.

Louis Easily Wins Exhibition Match

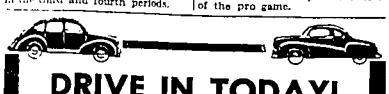

DETROIT, Nov. 20 (AP)—Heavyweight Joe Louis, using his vaunted power only twice, waltzed through six rounds with back-pedalling Vern Mitchell in an exhibition bout at Olympia stadium last night.

In his first hometown appearance in four years, the Brown Bomber floored his 21-year-old opponent twice and the rest of the time did little but spar. Both fighters wore 14-ounce gloves.

Louis, who weighed 220 pounds, 26 more than Mitchell, hardly worked up a sweat. A crowd of 12,301 witnessed the bout.

Joe Grzibowski, first-string center for Syracuse university, is No. 5 man in the varsity shell during the spring.

Mud Slows Oregon's Attack Against OSC

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 20—Two-inch ooze nearly stopped the Oregon Ducks' Rose bowl drive but they finally staged two drives over a stubborn Oregon State team to produce a 10-0 victory here today. It was the seventh straight coast conference win for the Ducks, whose hopes of going to the Rose bowl now rest on a vote of conference schools.

Their rivals for the bowl — the California Bears—ended the season with six conference wins.

OSC Subdued

Oregon produced a touchdown in the second quarter and the big Oregon line kept the staters completely subdued. Only once did the Beavers get into Oregon territory—and that early in the first period, when they recovered an Oregon fumble on the Ducks' 42 and moved to the 22 before being thrown back.

Thereafter the superior Oregon line took charge, although there was a question whether the backs could gain enough footing to maneuver to a score.

Longest Run

Johnny McKay, Oregon's fleet left halfback, finally came up with what was to be the game's longest run, 15 yards, without slipping into the muck. The run came at the end of a 40-yard drive for Oregon's touchdown two minutes before the first period.

The Ducks came right back at the start of the third period to add a field goal. They took the kickoff and clinched 40 yards to the Oregon State 10. Chet Daniels, the Oregon placement specialist, angled a kick neatly between the posts for Oregon's 10-0 lead.

Played Under Sun

Oddly, the entire game was played in warm sunshine. A week of rain already had come to the Lemuel Clough, and the field was a quagmire.

Oregon showed power throughout, cutting big holes in the State line, but the backs seldom could take advantage of them. Two other times, however, Oregon managed to pick and slide deep into state territory, but fumbled the slick ball to lose its scoring chances.

Passes also were used sparingly. Norm Van Brocklin, the Oregon ace, attempting only 10 short ones. He completed five timely ones.

Durocher Again In "Hot Water" Over Dealings

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 20 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler will question Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants and Coach Freddie Fitzsimmons next month to determine whether Fitzsimmons was "stolen" from the Boston Braves.

Walter Mulbry, assistant to the commissioner, disclosed yesterday that Durocher and Fitzsimmons, who recently was named coach of the Giants, will appear before Chandler in Chicago, between Dec. 13 and 15, to answer charges that the New York club had violated baseball's "tampering" rule.

Chandler also announced that San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league also was barred from signing ex-schoolboys because a Seals club had "negotiated" with them while they still were in high school.

Apprentice Rider Steals Race Show

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 20 (AP)—A baby-faced apprentice jockey, Clarence Picou, stole the show from the horses at Bowie race track today by riding four winners, including Inscrable in the Prince George autumn handicap.

The 17-year-old native of Beaumont, Tex., brought the 3-year-old Inscrable stable gelding in ahead by a neck in the $6,125 feature race. G. M. Jacobson's Bit Dial was second and H. I. Straus' Pilaster third in the field of 10.

Sportsmen Set District Meet For Rupert

RUPERT, Nov. 20—Delegates from 22 clubs in the 11 counties of the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen clubs of Idaho will gather at Rupert Dec. 4 for a convention.

Primary topic will be legislation recommendations for the 1949 legislature. The plans will be presented to the annual state convention in January.

Among the items slated for discussion are the proposed plan to reactivate some streams for dry fly fishing as a conservation program, legislative actions on fish and game regulations, proposed ban of boats on Silver creek, reduction of bag limits on fish and other matters.

Committee meetings will be held following a general assembly slated for 1 p. m. Dec. 4. Election of officers and action on committee reports will be held at a final general assembly. A banquet will be held in the evening.

Presiding at the general assemblies will be H. E. Adamson, Carey, district chairman.

Biggest?

RUPERT, Nov. 20—"Red" Ackers has joined the host of those claiming the "largest" catch of trout in the Minidoka dam.

He pulled out a 19-pound rainbow trout 31½ inches long.

His ordinary rod and eight-pound test leader held up, Ackers said, but he knew he had "hooked a big one."

UTAH CAGE SEASON

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Utah college basketball season will be ushered in soon after Thanksgiving—making its 1948-49 season debut before the hot stove leagues have stopped quarterbacking the region's football play.

Boise Uses Breaks To Down Wildcats

FILER, Nov. 20—Boise high school's Braves took full advantage of three timely breaks to push over three touchdowns to beat Filer high school 18-7 here this afternoon.

After being outplayed in the first period and held deep in its own territory, Boise came to life in the second quarter to take control of the ball game.

Tackle Roy Mosmon started things off for Boise when he snagged a flat pass thrown by quarterback Bob Rayborn and ran 30 yards untouched to the end zone. Mosmon missed the conversion attempt.

After the touchdown kickoff, Boise's strong forward wall stopped the Filer offense. Rayborn was forced to punt from his own 25-yard line. The ball spiraled over the Boise safety man and stopped dead on the Braves' one-yard stripe.

Twice Filer recovered Boise fumbles within the 20-yard mark on the next series of play, but lost the ball each time on downs.

The Boise offense started rolling on end sweeps and off tackle plays. The Braves carried the ball to their own 40-yard line where the strangest play of the game resulted in the second Boise score.

Quarterback Larry Jackson took the ball on a delayed buck into the line. A Filer lineman was caught off-side and the head linesman blew his horn. Every player on the field, except Jackson, stopped. The ball carrier raced to the goal.

Boise refused the penalty and the touchdown counted. Mosmon again tried the conversion attempt but the ball hit the cross bar and fell back into the field.

Filer quarterback Barry Flemiken was trying long passes to get the Wildcats back into the game when the first half ended with Boise in front 12-0.

Boise took the second half kickoff and drove down the field almost at will to set up the final Brave tally. Jackson stepped back, faked a run and passed to halfback Dick Ullin who was waiting in the end zone. The play covered 35 yards.

Mosmon's conversion attempt again hit the cross bar and fell back into the field.

The determined Filer team finally broke into the scoring column when Flemiken took the ball on an off tackle play through the right side of his line, reversed his field and raced down the sideline for the score.

Dale Jasper booted the ball for the extra point to end the scoring.

Filer was deep in Boise territory when the final gun sounded.

Jasper, who played the entire game, was the spark of the Filer forward wall. Fullback Bill Blaas, halfback Eddie Allison and Flemiken sparked the Filer offense.

Boise coach Bob Gibb used every player on the 26-man traveling squad. Boise tackles Nampa Thursday to end its season.

On paper the game was about even. Both teams made nine first downs and were about even in yards gained. Filer was penalized 10 yards and Boise was penalized 90 yards.

The referee was Art Kurts and the umpire, Kermit Allison.

County Agent Reviews 1949 Farm Outlook

"There is nothing in the farm outlook for next year which would tend to upset what is considered a normal balanced program of crop and livestock production," County Agent C. W. Dalgh said Saturday in commenting on outlook information relayed to his office by the bureau of agricultural economics, Washington, D. C., and state extension service economists.

"Higher production costs necessitate greater efficiency," he continued, "which in this area probably will mean planting less cost row crops only to fields from which high yields are expectable." Getting a good yield is part of an efficient program, he added.

Receives Information

Dalgh said his comment was based on information from R. W. Wilcox, extension economist; V. D. Kennedy, assistant extension economist, and a bureau of agricultural economics report. Kennedy frankly labeled his information as "not offering any greater degree of reliability than has been displayed by innumerable political forecasters in recent days . ." In summary form, his report states:

"The international situation is the most important force in 1949.

"A strong demand for most farm products is expected in 1949. Demand prospects are more uncertain for the second half of 1949. Our crop and livestock marketing probably will be heavy then, too.

"A fairly stable level of economic activity is indicated in 1949.

Export Volume

"The volume of U. S. agricultural exports in 1949 is likely to be about as high as last year.

"Continued high levels of consumer incomes and agricultural exports close to 1948 levels would keep the general level of prices received by U. S. farmers in 1949 near that of 1948.

"U. S. crop production in 1949 is likely to be below the 1948 record but increasing livestock output should maintain the total volume of farm marketings in 1949.

Items to Watch

"No one knows for sure what will happen. Here are some things to watch which will help you for your own opinion next spring: Military appropriations, ECA commitments, decision on revival of lend-lease, decision on revision of price supports, fourth round wage demands, their level and success."

Enlarging upon the importance of the international situation, Kennedy declared, "While a shooting war is not expected, the situation will be tense and the tenseness will determine how much of our industrial productions is drained off into military uses, both for ourselves and for the countries we are aiding."

Significant Parts

Dalgh described the following three paragraphs from the bureau of agricultural economics reports as significant:

"Farmers can make their plans for 1949 with good prospects that prices for their products will average almost as high as in 1948.

"Farmers are spending more for production items this year than ever before . . . farm costs this year are expected to total 18 billion dollars, three times prewar and more than gross farm income in any year before 1942.

"The most striking fact about 1947 family spending is the extent to which farm families have bought household furnishings and equipment. About 14 per cent of the expenditures of the account-keeping families for family living last year was used for furnishings and equipment for the house. Total spending for this purpose was three and three-quarters times the 1937-1940 average."

Key to Spending

In his report on the Idaho farm outlook for 1949, Wilcox stated the international situation holds the key to the rate of government spending. Better prospects for peace and rapid world recovery would cut it down, he pointed out, which in turn would mean release of more industrial goods for domestic use than is now expected.

Wilcox predicts a good year for farmers next year by pre-war standards but not as good as this year. Farm prices will be somewhat lower in 1949 but costs will stay up, according to his report, leaving less net income for the farm.

Expected to prevent any collapse in farm prices is the big demand brought about by the high level of business activity and price supports, Wilcox stated. Increased government spending is expected to offset any decline in business.

Need for Food

"There will continue to be great need for food in Europe," he pointed out, "but we must not confuse need with ability to purchase, for those people will be forced to spend their scarce dollars for the things they believe will do them the most good in the long run."

Following are excerpts from his report, regarding the outlook for various types of farm products:

Potatoes—The secretary of agriculture can set the 1949 price support as low as 60 per cent of parity. No announcement has been made on the 1949 potato price support but it is expected to be below 1948.

Dry beans and peas—Domestic demand will be about the same in 1949 as in 1948. Export probably will be lower, however, and prices likely will be somewhat lower. Loans are available on dry beans at the full support price.

No Sugar Raise

Sugar—Supplies and demand are back to pre-war levels. Production of sugar in areas normally supplying the United States will probably be 25 per cent larger than the 1935-1939 average. While import quotas prevent this supply becoming fully effective on U. S. sugar prices, it likely will prevent any rise.

Dairy products—Dairy herds may increase slightly next year. Production is expected to be larger than in 1948 as a result of heavy feeding promoted by lower feed costs. Demand will stay high for fluid milk and cream, thus limiting butter production. Dairy prices will hold up well.

Fruits—Demand will be about the same. Larger crops would mean lower prices.

Meat and meat animals—Cattle numbers will be lower again in 1949. Less cattle are to be slaughtered if the decline is to be stopped or even slowed down, so it looks like less beef next year. There will be more pork but not a great deal more until the last quarter of the year. Lamb numbers are expected to be lower again in 1949.

Life-Like Dolls Steal Show During Book Week at Burley Library

Burley Woman's Dolls Are Feature of Book Week Display at Public Library

By CASILDA STEELSMITH

BURLEY, Nov. 20—A display of portrait dolls in the Burley public library for book week has drawn much attention from both young and old. The dolls, made by Mrs. Nels Slindee, were displayed in glass cases at the library during book week.

The dolls, many of them historical characters, have attracted wide attention because of the perfect detail of construction. With the addition of the largest group of dolls, which includes three characters, the display includes 10 separate groups. Not only are the dolls attracting the children, but adults are intrigued by the exquisite detail of dress and properties.

Mrs. Slindee, who has always enjoyed making things, began several years ago making rag dolls, using raveled stocking for hair, cloth bodies, hand-painted faces and hand-made clothes. After Christmas last year, Mrs. Slindee began working on the present collection, which now includes 14 dolls, either in single display or placed in groups to form "portraits."

The heads of the dolls are made of tissue paper and glue, added layer by layer, and the perfect modeling is done with toothpicks and an orange stick since the usual modeling tools are too large for such fine work. The bodies are made of wire and cotton, and the features are painted on with oil paints. Doll hair is used for wigs, since human hair is not so easy to work with. Most of the dolls are eight or nine inches high.

The remarkable thing about the dolls and their clothing is that the maker seldom buys materials, but uses materials on hand, adapting them to her needs. Friends save odd bits of materials for her, and even inch-square pieces of materials come in handy for the small handkerchiefs or other articles which are completed in detail. Needing a small cage for a highly plumed parrot she made, Mrs. Slindee used broom straws. Two tiny Oriental dolls watch the parrot with childish interest.

Mrs. Slindee takes a great deal of time in seating or placing her figures to help portray their character. This is where her dolls differ with many other hand-made dolls. She carefully steams the cloth so that the folds will be perfect for any position in which the doll is placed. One doll figure, an old woman seated before a fireplace, shows what care is taken to detail of properties, which Mrs. Slindee makes herself. The woman holds an inch-size bellows, and on the fire is a teapot no larger than a marble. The lamp, teacup, mantel-clock, and embroidered hot-pot holder are all hand-made, and the rug on the floor is hand-woven.

The portrait doll, Lillian Russell, wears a beaded velvet dress, with the plumed hat a la Russell style. She wears miniature embroidered gloves, lace cape, and sits on a chair with needle-point back, another Slindee creation. The figure of Babe Ruth is another favorite, and Abraham Lincoln is a life-like historical character.

Mrs. Slindee also fashions the animals used in the settings. Wire and wool form the bodies, with beads for the eyes and bits of kid gloves for the noses and tongues. The small animals, one or two inches in size, are used cleverly as the small animal at the bottom of the stairway when his old master comes downstairs, gun in hand, to look for an intruder; or, as in the old man and woman set, the small pup is playfully chewing on one of the old man's shoes.

One of Mr. Slindee's small-checked handkerchiefs furnished the material for a little old lady's dress, and one of his plaid sox was the perfect thing for an old man's sweater. The chairs and tables are all hand-carved. Historical characters are favorites of Mrs. Slindee, who sometimes chooses a picture from a book as a model, while other characters are "made up."

The largest group of dolls, now being completed, is based on the famous painting, "Painter and HERBST'S CANDIES! Outstanding anywhere. 542 South Main. Phone 118-J. Adv.

President, 1795," by J. L. G. Ferris. This set shows President George Washington sitting for his portrait, and the doll set includes Martha Washington, the artist, and a woman in the background will complete the four figures. Martha Washington's dress is authentic in detail, and a friend's sachet bag furnished the flowered ribbon. Her lace mitts, beaded bag, and fancy fan are perfect. Both George Washington and the artist have velvet suits, and in the background is the almost completed portrait of the President, just as it appears in the picture.

Because the characters are either historical, or characters which have appeared or could appear in books, the display is particularly good for "book week," Mrs. Ann Parke, librarian, thinks. The public was invited to visit the library during the week and enjoy the doll display.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT

"And therefor I, William Bradford, (by the grace of God today and the franchise of this good people) Governor of Plymouth, say— Through virtue of vested power—ye shall gather with one accord, and hold in the month of November, Thanksgiving unto the Lord.
—The First Thanksgiving proclamation

When we are busy stuffing ourselves with turkey and fixin's this week, we should pause long enough to be thankful for the loving hands that prepared it all; for teeth with which to chew it, eyes to see it, a nose to smell its delicious odors. It's a wonderful thing just to be alive to enjoy another Thanksgiving—a lot of fine folks aren't you know—and to be warm, healthy and living in a land of freedom.

The wind yammers around the house; the toast burns, the refrigerator needs defrosting. Your new permanent looks like a Hurrah's Nest, and that filling is tingling again. You sit glaring at dirty breakfast dishes and wonder why mama didn't tell you life was gonna be like this. Then the announcer quits orating about wax and eggplant, and the room is suddenly filled with the glory of organ music.

PUCKETT

Jay Hill has begun his program. You relax as you picture him sitting at the Hammond, his sensitive musician's hands moving over the keys. Out across Magic Valley throbs the plaintive melody. It's a hymn—the kind hundreds of us sang in Sunday school. It is heard in lonely country kitchens, in neat hospital rooms, in cars zooming through the sagebrush. The sweetness of it lifts your heart.

What if the wind does rage? Tomorrow will be better. What if you do have razzly hair and stacks of unwashed dishes? Hair grows, water and soap are plentiful. As you spring up and begin clearing the table, you hear the KVSV announcer saying that Jay will be back again Wednesday with a special program of sacred music.

You think, "Thank you Jay Hill! Thanks for using your priceless gift to help your fellow mortals keep their chins up."

FROM OUR MAIL-BAG

Remember Ruby Hughes, the little gal with the black hair who was in high school with us? Ruby is now Mrs. Bowyer and lives in Long Beach, Calif. She says her man's a Scotch-Irishman. Ruby speaks of her brother, Ray, and the good old days. "Time and fate bring many changes," writes Ruby. Yea verily!

We have had a nice note from Mrs. Maude Requa, and that makes us think of Dillard and his sister Esther. We still remember Esther as a little blond kid in grammar school . . . Writes another gal from Long Beach, "I spent enchanted years in Twin Falls. I was 6, and memories of that town are dear to me. I remember the park with the bandstand, the lilacs and iris, a creek (?) just a block from our house in a potato field. My dad had a funeral parlor there—Sturdivant and Blue. He worked for a man named Jim Grossman. Mama used to sing at the churches. I got lost in the Twin Falls park once" . . . Our old friend, Guy Sturgeon, over Eden way, is still sending pictures of weird hats with our face glued under 'em; the last ones range from a red tam to a high-wide-and-handsome affair looking like the propeller on an airplane . . . Mrs. J. C. Johnson of Filer writes that her recent operation was no frolic but is now safely behind her. . . . One of the nicest letters this week is from the Boise chapter of the Idaho Writers' league inviting us to lunch with them tomorrow when we hold an autographing day at Walden's book shop over there. Just another example of the generous and cooperative attitude of the writing women of our states bless 'em.

Did the mama of Juneau Shinn have any idea how swell that name would be in print and over ether-waves? Writers, actors, radio people, statesmen—they all want monickers that will sock the public in the eye and stick in the memories. Juneau's by-line makes us drool with envy. We are still trying to corner him long enough to find how come he got such a name. No luck to date.

They say this Little-High-House we live in was once a night club called "The Nightingale." Probably that's why we often hear the faint tinkle of a juke box at night, and the ghostly sound of dancing.

But there's something new in the walls lately, and it has nothing to do with night clubs. It has to be a rat because the plop it makes when leaping to the floor is too hefty for a mouse. We have named this unseen critter "Ordelhyde," and everyone except Cokey, the mad Siamese, has become quite fond of him. When conversation lags we can always speculate as to how he gets food and water, and just what it is that he rolls over the attic floor now and then. It sounds exactly like a baby's rattle.

When "Ordelhyde" lowers himself down the inside of the north wall the Siamese develops such a bad case of frustration we think of calling in a psychiatrist. He stomps up and down, cussing and yelling: "Why don't you come out, you big coward!"

We can picture "Ordelhyde" inside the wall, twitching his whiskers and grinning. "Listen to that little crooked-tailed ——— sick," he probably squeaks in glee.

Mrs. May Janks, the lady who deals in antiques and such, just got back from the antique show in Vancouver, Wash. Mrs. Janks flew over, enjoyed the show (especially an old spoon-holder of Egyptian glass) and then took a plane for Oakland, Calif., where she visited friends and bought more antiques. "I got a bird bath," said Mrs. J. "It's a nice piece and comes from Florence, Italy."

The white flakes are falling as we write this. How one reacts to this kind of weather depends on his temperament. A Californian-just-turned-Idahoan, wrote this in a letter south:

"It's snowing today. Haven't seen any in years! A half-inch of feathery, beautiful snowflakes!" His second winter here he wrote, "Well, here comes the first snow again, a full inch of silky, downy flakes!" The third winter he wrote, "Snowing again. Six feet of the darned stuff." But the poet feels this way about it:

O the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and the earth below.
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet,
Dancing, flirting, skimming along,
Beautiful snow, it can do no wrong.

Traffic Experts Suggest Methods for Financing Off-Street Parking System

(Editor's note: Previous articles in this series have described the need for off-street parking here and the plan prepared by the Associated Consultants. This article describes their plan for financing it without cost to the general taxpayer.)

Twin Falls businessmen and public officials have long recognized the need for some sort of action but have not agreed upon the approach, the Associated Consultants stated in pointing out most cities recognize the need for off-street parking but fail to take action because they cannot see their way clear to finance the needed improvements.

Legal opinion indicates Twin Falls can acquire land and own and operate parking facilities, they continue, adding that studies in many cities have concluded public ownership is desirable to assure the permanence of parking facilities and to make them available to the public at a minimum cost.

Minimum cost is essential to attract patronage, they warn, in a community such as Twin Falls which serves as a center for a large agricultural trading area. The consultants also point out that to expedite public ownership it is possible under present laws for the city to exercise the powers of eminent domain in the acquisition of land.

Some form of bond issue undoubtedly will be necessary for financing to enable the city to acquire immediately all the land needed for 500 to 600 car spaces, the engineers comment. They review the present bond situation in these words:

"At this time, the total taxable values of the city are $8,361,000. With a 15 per cent bonding limit, the city thus now has a potential bonding power of $1,254,000. As against this limit, the city has at this time issued bonds in the amount of $89,000, leaving a reserve credit of $362,000 which might be applied, at least in part, to the creation of off-street parking areas.

"It is understood that at its next session the legislature will be requested to grant the municipalities the authority to issue bonds for the development of improvements that will produce a revenue, the bonds to be secured by these revenues without becoming an obligation of the city's general revenue funds."

By this means, the engineers emphasize, self-liquidating projects may be undertaken without becoming an obligation to the individual taxpayer and for that reason his sanction is not required in a referendum.

Their comment is that it is highly desirable this form of financing be authorized in that it will greatly facilitate the development of off-street parking areas as well as other types of self-liquidating municipal governments.

Realizing that before revenue bonds can be sold, proof is necessary the improvements actually can be self-liquidating, the consultants submit an estimate of the cost of developing off-street areas with a capacity of 500 cars.

Although recent sales of land comparable to that suggested for off-street parking have indicated a land value from $1.40 to $1.55 a square foot, their estimate presumes a land cost of $1.70 a square foot.

They also take into consideration funds for a bituminous hard surface, flood lighting, curbing and a limited amount of fencing. They further propose marking the parking stalls and using meters to collect parking fees.

Their estimate:

Total investment—130,000 square feet of land at $1.70, $221,000; surface, floodlights, etc., 14,000 square yards at $2.25, $32,700; 500 multiple coin meters at $70, $35,000; total, $288,700.

Annual cost—Principal and interest on bonds (30 years at 1¼ per cent), $12,500; maintenance, $3,000; cleaning, $1,600; lights, etc., $1,000; supervision, collection and maintenance of meters $5,000; total, $23,300.

Using these figures and that of 300 days of use per year, the engineers arrive at a daily cost of $77.60 and a cost per car space per day of 15½ cents. Their conclusions are:

"From the above tabulation it may be seen that even with an extremely liberal estimate of costs, 500 car spaces may be had at an annual expense of $23,300. The question then arises as to how these costs may be met.

"If the city wished to make this space available without charge, the entire cost of the plan could be met each year through the revenues from parking meters."

The traffic experts list present meters as producing a total yearly revenue of approximately $30,000, of which no more than $5,000 is needed for supervision and maintenance, leaving a net revenue of $25,000.

However, they recommend at least a small fee be charged for the privilege of parking in the off-street areas, if for no other reason than to discourage central business district employes from parking there all day. Through use of multiple coin meters, they state, a fee may be charged amounting to five cents for either two or three hours.

On that basis, revenue from the parking lots may be sufficient to meet the annual costs, the consultants point out, since only 10 cents per car space per day is needed to make the off-street areas entirely self-liquidating.

However, they warn, to assure salability of revenue bonds, it would be necessary to pledge the revenues not only from off-street parking meters but also from present parking meters as security. In so doing, they explain, a reserve fund may be accumulated to assure the payment of revenue bonds even during periods of slackened business activity. The consultants continue:

"Thereafter, as is evident from the above statements of cost, only a small portion, if any, of the revenue obtained from the curb parking meters will be required for the payment of bonds. Any surplus meter revenues over and above bond obligations should be made available through the city's general fund for traffic improvements of other types."

Through an analysis of the business area here, its need for parking and its land cost, the engineers state, it is obvious that Twin Falls can secure the parking space it needs without cost to the general taxpayer. Their report declares:

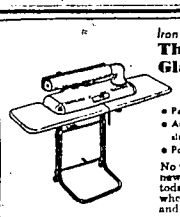

"Even should it prove necessary to use general obligation bonds prior to the time that revenue bonds are authorized, payment on these bonds can be assured from the revenue of parking meters in the central district without raising the tax rate on the average citizen by even one mill.

"In fact, after the popularity of the off-street areas is established, it should be possible and probably would prove desirable to increase the fees in the parking areas in order to produce sufficient revenue to pay off the bonds more rapidly or to expand the off-street parking system.

"The municipality gains through such a program, not alone by the stabilization of taxable values, but also by gaining title to valuable tracts of land at no cost to the general taxpayer."

Doctor Talks At Ketchum's PTA Session

KETCHUM, Nov. 20 — Dr. John Moritz, Sun Valley, gave a talk on organic, inflammatory and contagious diseases for the study group session at the last meeting of the Ketchum PTA.

Dr. Moritz pointed out that "present day medical authorities are in accord with the opinion that the state of mental health of every child is greatly important, for mental health can do a child more lasting damage than most diseases affecting physical health." He discussed cause, cure and prevention of disease.

Shop Gets $54.70

At the business session, reports were given on the hot lunch program and teen-age dances. A total of $54.70 raised at teen-age dances sponsored by the PTA was turned over to Ray Jefferson, manual training instructor, to purchase equipment for his shop. Jefferson invited PTA members to visit his shop to inspect present projects and see what equipment is needed in the department.

Mrs. Larry LaPrise was named chairman of a committee to assist Hailey band mothers to raise money for band uniforms. Several Ketchum youngsters attend Hailey high school and are active in the band.

Contacts Merchants

Mrs. Walter Kane will contact merchants for donations to the annual Christmas tree project for Ketchum youngsters.

The program was presented by Mrs. Eddie Seagle and Mrs. John Moritz. It included a song, "At Thanksgiving Time," sung by Mrs. Wallace Lightfoot's pre-school kindergarten, and a Thanksgiving reading by Mrs. Kane.

Mrs. Ralph Burr, vice president, conducted the meeting.

Christmas Seals' Sale Begun Here

The 42nd annual sale of anti-tuberculosis Christmas seals will begin Monday, it was announced by Mrs. J. O. Pumphrey, sale chairman, for the Twin Falls County Anti-Tuberculosis association. The seals will be sold in all communities in the county.

Part of the proceeds will be used for local use in fighting tuberculosis. The balance will be sent to the state and national organizations. A large portion of the funds has been budgeted for purchase of a mobile X-ray unit to detect tuberculosis early enough for effective countermeasures.

Buy Christmas Seals

Funds derived from the proceeds of the seal sale in past years went to an electrocardiograph donated by the county chapter to the state tuberculosis hospital at Gooding in September.

Auctioneer Back From Busy Time At Ogden Events

Averages for some sales at the Ogden livestock show would have been considerably higher if all animals displayed during the show had been offered for sale, according to Col. E. O. Walter, Filer auctioneer, who returned Friday from Ogden.

Even so, Hereford sale figures were $50 higher than the previous record, he said.

The auctioneer's latest selling jaunt started at Pocatello where he called the annual bull sale sponsored by the Idaho Cattlemen's association. The two top bulls sold for $625 each with a sale average of $447.

Top ewe sold for $200 and the top ram brought $350 at the Columbia sheep sale at Ogden. Sale average was $85 with animals ranging from lambs to 5-year-olds.

Top ewe brought $400 with a pen of five topping at $255 for the registered Suffolk sale. Average price was $130.

Top price paid for a bull in the Intermountain Hereford sale was $3,300 with top female bringing $2,475. Average price of the top 50 head was $1,081. Sale average was $648 for 100 bulls. Col. Art Thompson, Lincoln, Nebr., assisted Colonel Walter.

In the fat stock sale, the champion lamb brought $2.35 per pound, champion steer $1 per pound and champion hog 61 cents a pound. The champion carload, fed by the Amalgamated Sugar company plant in Twin Falls, sold for 40 cents per pound. The carload of Aberdeen-Angus from Twin Falls brought the highest price for a carload.

The top was $695 in the registered Shorthorn sale with an average of $350.

The convention did not adjourn in August, however, but recessed until Nov. 23.

Final adjournment of the convention came today in Governor Wright's office.

DE LAVAL MILKING Maintains Sound, Healthy, Productive Udders

CENTURIES of breeding for more and more milk production has resulted in the marvelously complex and highly developed udder of the modern dairy cow. It has incredibly large milk producing capacity ... it is sensitive ... equally responsive to both proper and improper handling and conditions. It cannot function normally or at full productivity unless it is kept in sound, healthy condition.

At milking time ... attached to the udder, the De Laval Magnetic Speedway Milker actually seems to become part of it. It is uniform and gentle ... kind to the sensitive udder. De Laval Speedway Comfort Teat Cups cause no undue pull on or distortion of the sensitive tissues ... the suspensory ligaments are not strained or distorted. Its uniform, gentle action results in speedy, rapid milk "let down", longer lactation periods and maximum milk yield.

New Legion Post Celebrates Early

SUN VALLEY, Nov. 20—A pre-organization celebration for a new Legion post at Sun Valley was held at Trail Creek cabin for about 230 persons. Prospective members and their wives spent the evening at dancing. A buffet supper was served late in the evening.

A charter was presented to a delegation of the prospective members at the district meeting in Fairfield by District Commander George Venable of Ketchum. At a meeting set for the first week in December, officers will be chosen and the organization will be activated. Plans include that an auxiliary will be organized for wives at an early date.

About 100 are expected to join the new post.

Witness Charges Business Wrecks Anti-Trust Laws

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A government witness declared yesterday that big business is making a "powerful drive" to wreck the country's anti-trust laws.

Walter B. Wooden, associate general counsel for the federal trade commission, told the senate trade policies committee that was the motive behind efforts to have congress legalize pricing systems which would permit manufacturers to pay part or all of the freight charges on their products.

The committee is hearing testimony on the effect on business of the supreme court decision last spring outlawing the cement industry's basing point price system.

In more than two weeks of hearings, Wooden has been the sole witness before the committee to oppose a legalized price system.

Harry Barry Ajnt Mad at Nobody

The stormy weather of the past week has put a crimp into our store building plans. But it doesn't seem to have slowed up business at the lumber yard. The boys keep dishing out ship lap, dimension and oak flooring at a rapid rate. This has been great fence building weather, so we have loaded out scads of those split cedar posts. Many folks remarked earlier this Fall that we had a rick of split cedar posts we would not sell in 5 years. However, the stack is melting down. Our cedar posts are good ones, and we are selling them at 36c each.

The boys unloaded a car of roofing this week. We now have all kinds of composition roofing, such as 45, 55, and 90 lb. roof roofing, and then the 210 lb. thick butt asphalt shingles. We have 4 different colors of thick butt shingles. These shingles are easy to put on, and will last as long as cedar shingles. We have cedar shingles, too.

More cattle are being fed for the market around Twin Falls this year than usual. You cattle feeders who need the material for corrals, remember we have it. Rough fir 2x6's are suitable for your corral fences, and then we have 2-inch and 3-inch planks to make platforms next to the feed racks to keep the cattle out of the mud when feeding. Our culls are suitable for building mangers, and believe we can save you plenty of money.

Several of the cattle men have bought our slabs for wind breaks, and they tell us that these are ideal for that purpose. Ask one of the men at the yard next time you are here to show you these slabs for wind breaks. They will last for many years, and also make a substantial fence. In fact these slabs would be suitable for corral fences. Just got our 1948 tax notices. Hand on a Thanksgiving dinner.

FARMS FOR RENT

160 ACRES irrigated farm near American Falls; two modern houses; crop rent. Give equipment, experience and references. Write Box 703, Caldwell, Idaho.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

APPROXIMATELY 4,000
IRRIGATED ACRES TO BE LEASED
IMMEDIATELY.
In units of 30 to 150 acres, on crop-share basis, SOIL—Portneuf silt loam; elevation—4,800 feet; growing season—126 days; water—pumped from deep wells. Union Pacific main line runs through property; about distance from town of 1,000 population.
$9,000 CASH PRIZE MONEY to help Cassia farmers who produce biggest crop of wheat, potatoes, beans or beets on this land, 1949 crop year.
WHERE IS THE CATCH?
THERE IS NONE.
More than 25,000 sacks of fieldrun potatoes, taken off the project this year, were measured and inspected by AAA field checker-inspectors made by Lyle J. Bliss—Idaho Department of Idaho, Department of Agriculture, Inspection Department, signed, sealed, tonnage-checked 50/50 No. 1's, 2's No. 2s and 6% seed.
CAN YOU BEAT THAT?
If not, don't read further. But if you can't, hop to it, for the Cassia farmers who want to lease from us must prove to us that they have the "know how" and experience, a good reputation, ample equipment to farm acres desired, and a satisfactory financial set-up. Any farmer presently lacking bank or loan agency that credit is available to them should if they decide to farm with us before January 1st. Only responsible, and we do anyone them for lease.
LOAN: We provide that loan companies will make loans to lessees for Cassia share to support budget. Budget will include fertilizer, in addition to the same margin expense. $10.00 per acre for commercial fertilizer for grain, and $20.00 per acre for commercial fertilizer for potatoes, beans and beets. We to manufacturer factory direct basis of fertilizer. YOU can reasonably expect the land to produce 200 sacks of potatoes to the acre.
IRE Associated Press carried the following release, Friday, November 12th—"A large scale farm operator of the Burley area has announced he will make awards amounting to $5,500 to farmers who grow the best crops on his lands in 1949. The awards were announced by Julius Clawson as incentives to boost production of 4,000 acres of irrigated lands near here. The awards and the minimum acreages on which they will be based: Largest wheat yield, 10 acres, $2,500; Heaviest potato yield, 10 acres, $2,000; Best sugar beet crop, 15 acres, $500; biggest yield of beans, 25 acres, $500.
If corn ranks first, both wheat and potatoes he will qualify for an additional $1,000 award of $2,500."
NOW let's get it straight, we are not talking or showing the property on Sunday.
WE furnish land, water, our share of the fertilizer, and supervision. We lease on the crop-share basis only, to farmer on grain; ½ to farmer on potatoes, beans and beets, and we put up $15,000 of prize money to the farmers who raise the best crops.
Therefore, we are making a great deal more on each farmer who leases, than he is. For that reason we haven't the time to waste on anyone you can qualify before you come here.

Extension Class Open at Gooding

GOODING, Nov. 20—Extension courses are being offered to teachers and others in the Gooding area by the Southern Idaho College of Education, Neal N. Nash, director of extension work, and Harold Soeters, registrar, were present for the organizational meeting.

Upper division credit will be given for this work, three quarter hours per class. It is planned to have two quarters of work or a total of six hours.

The following courses were selected for the first quarter; Philosophy of education, American literature and Idaho problems. Neal N. Nash, Alvin Kempton and Harold Drury are instructors.

Thirty-five teachers are enrolled. These extension classes offer out-of-state teachers and permit teachers an opportunity to meet state requirements for certification.

Water Extension Begun in Rupert

RUPERT, Nov. 20—Extension of city water mains to the East View and R. E. Smith additions south of the city has begun.

Insofar as weather conditions permit, city crews have started laying water mains in the East View addition. Completion of both projects is expected next spring.

Principal main will be a six-inch wooden line. Laterals will be four-inch lines. The pipe is available in sufficient quantity for both districts.

Authorization for construction was given by the city council at its session this week.
